CAPITAL ASKS ABOUT HOOVER TRIP TO WEST

Is It Old-fashioned Political Jaunt or Merely Fishing Party HEADS EXCITED Democrats See Sign of Weakness and Republicans Urge Speeches

Washington —(CPA)—Whether President Hoover is going west on an old-fashioned political trip or whether he is merely fishing and vacationing seems to have disturbed the political fraternity hereabouts.

Denials have come from the White House that the president had politics in mind or that he will make speeches. Just what harm there is or what departure from precedent is involved if the president did make a few addresses, and even discussed politics, is not explained. Presidents have always retained the right to take a tour across the continent and to take advantage of the opportunity to tell the people a few things about governmental policies.

The Democrats, however, have not failed to seize upon the announcement of a forthcoming trip as a sign of weakness in the part of the administration. As a matter of fact they will not fail to make the most of any losses that the Republican party may sustain in the autumn congressional elections.

Mr. Hoover, there, is likely to be urged by Republican leaders to do what he can in the way of speech-making. The theory here is that if he is in public opinion, the more likely is his party to retain control of congress.

WON'T BE ISOLATED
Mr. Hoover's itinerary thus far includes only the national park and he will, of course, go to the Pacific coast. Nevertheless, however, he can be in retreat almost anywhere in the United States and his microphone and press dispatches reach all the people who want to listen or read.

President Taft made a trip in the middle of his administration and so did Mr. Wilson and later Mr. Harding. Obviously presidents try to

ROY IS INAUGURATED AS PRESIDENT OF HAITI

Port-au-Prince, Haiti —(CP)— Eugene Roy, selected for temporary president of Haiti during the recent Hoover commission survey here, was inaugurated shortly before 9 o'clock this morning without incident.

Mr. Roy, who is 69 years old and is an independent in politics, succeeds President Louis Borno, who finished an eight year term today.

President Roy was selected by the Hoover commission after receiving almost unanimous support from the various political groups in Haiti. He was formally elected by the council of state on April 21.

Under the Haitian system the council of state which served under President Borno will be dissolved and President Roy will select a council to assist him.

In accordance with the plan drawn by the Hoover commission, the new president will develop plans for a popular election either late this summer or in the autumn for a regular president.

Senate Bloc May Slow Up Tariff Vote

Washington —(CP)—Whether the tariff bill will be passed depended today, congressional leaders believed, on whether the senate's Democratic-Independent Republican coalition can muster a majority for a final test on its amendment revoking the president's authority, to make emergency changes in import duty rates.

The Republican members of the two houses have reached an impasse and before the end of the week the senate Republican majority of the conference committee are to ask that they be relieved of an agreement restricting them from abandoning this amendment.

The coalition today was discussing whether it should oppose this request, or grant it and then oppose the conference report, if the amendment is not included. When the conference report is brought to the senate, the issue will be approval or rejection of the entire bill.

Republicans were of the opinion the coalition could kill the bill by refusing to confer a free hand and the Democrats replied that the Republicans were willing to let it die. Some members of the minority party even went so far as to say President Hoover would prefer the existing tariff law to the pending measure.

DRY LAW RULINGS DUE BEFORE JUNE 2

Supreme Court Expected to Make Decisions Before End of Present Term

Washington —(CP)—Important prohibition decisions by the supreme court are expected before it ends its present term on June 2.

These may define the legal status of purchasers of bootleg liquor, decided whether the government can require manufacturers withdrawing liquor and alcohol for use in their business to renew their permits annually and whether automobiles can be confiscated without giving the owner an opportunity to recover them, when seized for illegal transportation.

Attorney General Mitchell, in anticipation of the transfer of prohibition enforcement to the department of justice, is trying to clarify controversial questions and to obtain from the highest court its interpretation of disputed phases of the prohibition law.

The question of the guilt of the purchaser of illicit liquor is before the court in two cases. One comes from Boston, brought against James E. Parvaz, in which the government contended that the purchaser is equally guilty with the bootlegger. The other is from Philadelphia, where the government insisted that Alfred E. Norris, a New York banker, was guilty of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law when he ordered liquor from a Philadelphia bootlegger, knowing that illegal transportation would be involved in its delivery.

Manufacturers and others withdrawing liquor and alcohol under permits, challenged in five cases the authority of the government to require them to renew their permits annually, taking the position that the law required only those engaged in the manufacture of liquor and not those using it in their legitimate business, to obtain annual permits.

RHINELANDER MAN HELD FOR INTENT TO KILL

Rhineland —(CP)—Emmett Guole, 29, today was held pending preliminary hearing on charges of assaulting Deputy Sheriff Albert Brown with intent to kill. Brown's condition was said to be critical.

Witnesses said Brown discovered Guole intoxicated and took him to a hotel to sleep off the effects of the liquor. Guole escaped from the hotel and was reported causing trouble on the streets. Brown, with another officer, attempted to apprehend Guole, witnesses said, a fight ensued during which Brown was wounded seriously.

WATERLOO CASHIER EMBEZZLING SUSPECT

FEDERAL JURY CITES SHERIFF OUSTED HERE

Await Arraignment for Conspiracy to Violate Prohibition Law

Milwaukee —(CP)—Arraigned before Federal Judge F. A. Geiger, this afternoon, on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition act, Fred W. Giese, ousted sheriff of Outagamie county, and Arthur Kemp, former deputy sheriff, entered pleas of not guilty.

Judge Geiger set their bond at $1,000 each and directed them to appear for trial June 3. Dan Kelly, former turnkey under Giese did not appear for arraignment.

Milwaukee —(CP)—Fred W. Giese, ousted sheriff of Outagamie county, and Arthur Kemp, former deputy sheriff, were expected to surrender here today for arraignment in federal court on charges of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act. Giese, Kemp and Dan Kelly, former turnkey at the Outagamie county jail, were indicted by the recent federal grand jury. Kelly is serving a three year term in Waupun for attempted larceny.

The indictment names Giese and the two other men as the operators, during Giese's tenure in office, of an extensive shake-down scheme in Outagamie county.

Among the specific allegations made against the former sheriff, who was removed by Gov. Kohler, are:

"The taking of bribes from liquor vendors and manufacturers for 'protection'."

"The resale of distillation and brewery apparatus to violators from whom it had been confiscated."

Warrants are held by federal officers for the two men named as co-conspirators with Giese. Their names will be released upon arrest.

Six court aunts are outlined in the true bill. These include alleged specific instances when bribes were taken and confiscated equipment retained.

Specific charges against Giese are: That a still seized Feb. 12, 1929, from Charles Clune, Buchanan, Wis., was later resold to Clune by Giese and Kelly.

That Giese and Kelly took money for aiding and protecting a brewery operated at the home of Frank Roehl, Appleton.

That Giese, Kelly and Kemp were paid for protecting the saloon of George Vanderveiden, Appleton.

That Giese aided the operation of a still on a farm near Little Chute, Wis.

The indictment was based chiefly on a transcript of the court trial testimony, but in addition a few witnesses gave direct testimony. The men whom Giese is accused of protecting are listed in the indictment, but are not charged with any offense.

Although much of the case against involved slot machines, testimony in the ouster hearing which the government is believed to have submitted to the grand jury includes:

The story of Roehl that he was solicited and paid $500 for protection.

The testimony of Emma E. Collier, Shiocton, that he paid $20 for protection.

The testimony of Henry Van Camp that he paid $50 of $500 protection demanded for the operation of a still, the original demand of $1,500 having been reduced by bargaining.

The testimony of Mrs. Catherine Giese, a former deputy sheriff that when she brought in evidence of liquor law violations at roadhouses and dance halls, Sheriff Giese told her to "let the big fellows alone."

The testimony of Kelly concerning a tipoff system to warn liquor operators of impending raids.

8 Aviators Rescued From Shark-Infested Waters

Two Believed Afloat on Amphibian Plane—Fate of 2 Others Unknown

Honolulu —(CP)—Two more of the 12 army and navy fliers caught in the rough, shark-infested waters between the islands of Maui and Hawaii when their planes were unable to effect takeoffs yesterday were rescued early today by the mine sweeper, USS Pelican. Eight previously were picked up. The other two are unaccounted for.

BULLETIN

Honolulu —(CP)—Eight of the 12 army and navy fliers who were cast upon the rough, shark-infested waters between the islands of Maui and Hawaii were rescued late last night by the inter-island steamer Hawaii. Two others were believed to be afloat in an amphibian plane. The fate of the remaining two was unknown.

The 12 fliers were caught in the grip of a rough channel yesterday in the emergency landing of a big army bombing plane and in the subsequent rescue attempts by fellow aviators, who were unable to take off after they had landed at the scene.

The eight rescued fliers were taken from a navy seaplane and an amphibian, both of which had gone to the rescue of the bomber. The big bomber was believed to have been lost. The Hawaii is proceeding in search of another amphibian which was believed to be carrying two men, believed to be afloat in the channel.

SENTINEL SAVES JUGOSLAV PRINCE FROM FATAL FALL

Belgrade, Yugoslavia —(CP)— Prompt action today of a sentinel outside the king's summer palace saved the life of his second son, Tomislav.

The sentinel on duty below the nursery window saw the child playing on the balcony, climb to the rail and fall. He dropped his rifle and dashed forward just in time to catch the infant in his arms.

King Alexander, frantic, descended rapidly and embracing the sentinel called the officer of the guard, instructing him to take immediate steps to procure the soldier's discharge from the army. He then presented him with 30,000 dinars (about $500) and arranged for a life-long pension.

DRY LAW TRANSFER MEASURE Nearly Ready For Hoover

Washington —(CP)—The first of the administration's bills for the improvement of prohibition enforcement today bore the approval of both branches of congress and awaited only the elimination of minor differences between the two houses before being sent to the White House.

This was the measure to transfer the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department and coordinate it with the prosecuting agency there under the direction of a single head. It was approved by the senate late yesterday. The vigorous wet and dry debate the bill had been expected to evoke in the senate failed to materialize and the only dispute of any consequence came on an amendment, offered by Teddings Democrat, Maryland, to prohibit the addition of poisonous ingredients to denatured industrial alcohol. This was rejected by a vote of 53 to 13.

The principal senate amendment would provide that the bill become effective July 1. The senate approved the house provision that lay upholding this view

2 ADMIRALS DISAGREE ON LONDON PACT

Jones Says Different Settlement Possible—Pratt Supports Treaty

Washington —(CP)—Two grey-headed admirals of the American navy, each with upwards of a half century of distinguished service behind him, disagreed potentially today over the merits of the naval treaty of London.

Sounding the first note of protest from any official quarter, Rear Admiral Hilary D. Jones, long an outstanding figure among navy men, told the senate foreign relations committee that he not only disagreed with many of the decisions of the London conference, but thought a different settlement would have been entirely possible.

At the same time Admiral William V. Pratt, commander in chief of the battle fleet, was a vocal and able naval committee that the treaty suited him, that he was satisfied to have fewer such men on duty than the navy previously had, and that in any case the American situation at London set the limit of what could be done.

Both admirals were vocal advocates of the London pact, but before the conference ended because of illness, he came to the committee. (The today hearing was only a formality, his disability did not diminish the vigor of his replies to questioning senators.)

"I disagree fundamentally with Admiral Pratt," he said. "I cannot understand Admiral Pratt's position."

Great Britain, Jones said, always had tried to cut down the American strength in the such manner most desired by the navy, and at London had been almost successful.

The Japanese, Jones said, had gained the upper hand in the treaty by placing it in the hands of the British.

ROACH AGREES WITH JONES

When the "Pine" concluded, Chairman Roach said that while he was not ready to indicate whether he would support ratification of the treaty, he agreed with Jones in respect to the need for more such officers.

Rear Admiral Jones said the new classification of cruiser and gun and such gun ships "is contrary to the entire United States policy, we have maintained a policy of equality."

He likewise criticized the battle ship provision, saying that France and Italy, who had been parties to the Washington treaty but not to the limitations of the London pact, would not be restricted, and adding that while "it does not particularly affect us, I wonder what effect it may have."

At Great Britain feels alarmed by building by France and Italy.

The speed of 20 knots allowed for the cruiser class of ships also was opposed by Jones. He said this "will make a very formidable any constructive factor or anti-submarine craft, particularly in the Pacific or in the Mediterranean."

Meanwhile before the senate naval committee Admiral Pratt, commander of the battle fleet, was declaring that the United States "went into this conference with no assets at all so far as cruisers were concerned," and "got the best agreement possible."

HORICON MARSH DAM MAY RESULT IN SUIT

Horicon —(CP)—Horicon City officials today were faced with a threatened damage suit if the state conservation commission is allowed to proceed with the erection of a dam at Horicon marsh.

Ray J. Clark of Mayville, signer of notices served on city officials, set forth that under the terms of an ordinance of March, 1912, C. A. McWilliams and his heirs and assigns were granted the right to dredge and improve the river for purposes of draining the marsh. Clark said the work was done in conformity with city ordinances and that he is now trustee and represents the rights and properties affected. Should the dam be constructed, Clark said, he will claim from the city all costs of the drainage improvement.

Craft Fails In Its Dash To Green Bay

Armed Crew Makes No Resistance as Vessel Is Taken by Plum Island Guard

Washington Harbor —(CP)—Captured without firing a single shot, the tramp steamer Anseberg, with 1,000 cases of Canadian ale aboard, steamed down Lake Michigan today and Sturgeon Bay today, in convey to coast guardsmen.

Estimate of the cargo's value ranged from $30,000 to $50,000.

Southern Cross, the former light ship and its crew of six men, was overhauled into "Deaf's Deer," the steamer leading from outer Lake Michigan into Green Bay, late yesterday afternoon. She was sighted eight miles off the Plum Island station. A cutter gave chase, overhauled her, and the surrender took place without resistance.

A cotton boat of the wharfblack type, the steamer, painted black, was attempting to slip into the bay and head either for Escanaba or Green Bay when she was captured. She had been the object of a search since the west coast since notification early in the week that she had cleared, Goshute, Ont., today and passed through the Straits of Mackinac.

The boat was brought to this harbor and her crew held under strict guard. At 8 o'clock this morning, the guard for Sturgeon Bay, and was expected to reach that point on the shore south of the lake at 10 o'clock p. m. Officers here were not allowed aboard. They heard reports in much of the liquor was carried in two shipments in the bay.

Capt. M. A. Jacobson of the Plum Island station, said the crew surrendered willingly. As he came aboard the Anseberg's bow and hailed her, one of the men shouted back:

"All right, come on," and they boarded her.

MADE PREVIOUS RUN

While the boat was being in Goshute harbor last week, the Anseberg, without divulging the landing place in the United States, said that on its previous trip it had taken four trucks two hours to unload the A.S. cargo at an American port.

WAIT FOR ORDERS

Washington —(CP)—Report of the seizure of the tramp steamer Anseberg, was received by coast guard headquarters today in a telegram which said the vessel and crew was being held pending orders from the collector of customs for that district.

Ten of Twelve Jurors Must Concur on Answers to Eight Questions

JUDGE HAS 2 COURSES! May Give Finding or Rule on Motions to Have Answers Set Aside

Sheboygan —(CP)—To assure a speedy ending to the ouster trial of Gov. Walter J. Kohler, Circuit Judge Gustave Gehrz announced today he will hear the jury's findings until 1 o'clock a. m. tomorrow. Closing arguments and the court's charge will be completed this afternoon.

"In a case of this seriousness, I don't like to keep the parties without knowledge of the findings overnight," Judge Gehrz said. "It is too much strain on the litigants."

He had 16 pages of instructions completed as court reconvened this afternoon.

A principal point he will make is that the burden of proof is upon the prosecution and not on the defendant.

Sheboygan —(CP)—The ouster trial of Gov. Walter J. Kohler, Circuit Judge Gustave Gehrz, today began the first day of the trial.

There is only a small jury panel expected to hear the case and decide whether the ouster was a constitutional violation or a mere political maneuver.

Bishop Cannon Cleared Of Undue Political Action

STOCK MARKET ISSUE STILL IS UNSETTLED

Committee Statement Clears Five Methodist Bishops of Charges

Dallas, Texas —(AP)—Exonerated of charges of undue political activity in the 1928 campaign, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., today still faced complaints signed by more than a score of delegates to the general conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that he speculated on the stock market.

Nearly six hours of deliberation by the episcopacy committee yesterday failed to clear Bishop Cannon of the speculation allegations. For three hours in the afternoon, and forty-five minutes at night, Cannon was on the witness stand. Much of the time, he was known to have spent reading papers, presumably in reply to the photostatic documents presented by Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, purporting to be records of his stock market transactions.

After Bishop Cannon left the room, the committee spent nearly two more hours discussing his case. The sole known accomplishment of that session was a two paragraph statement which placed the committee definitely on record as supporting the political activities of "five bishops." The committee will not meet again until Friday.

FIFTH NAME SECRET
Of these five, only four—Cannon, Edwin Meuser, John M. Moore and H. M. Dubose—were known to have been named by the Rev. Rembert G. Smith of Washington, Ga., instigator of the charge. Since the proceedings of the committee are kept in much privacy, it was not possible to ascertain the name of the fifth. It was recalled, however, that the Rev. Mr. Smith's book attacking Cannon had named a fifth bishop as one of the "four horsemen" over whom Cannon was "pope."

Bishop Cannon, although popular, maintained his attitude of non-communism toward the political process. In the event the committee exonerates Cannon, the decision is final insofar as those charges are concerned. If the committee should order a trial, he will be tried before a jury of clerics, probably in executive session.

Today the convention proper was called to consider further the report of the committee on nationalization, and to also hear other committee reports.

The conference yesterday disposed of the most important items on the nationalization program—providing autonomous churches for Brazil, Mexico and Korea, and a bishop for China. There remain recommendations concerning the church in Cuba, Africa and Europe, and suggestions for changes in the rules of discipline to bring that body of laws into conformity with the new churches.

Another subject expected to come before the conference was the question of women's rights to serve as ministers, with a majority report recommending the church accord women this right.

MAN MOURNED AS DEAD ORDERED TO SUPPORT HIS WIFE

Los Angeles —(AP)—Back in Cheboygan, Mich., in 1904, Arthur C. Moffitt, a mechanic, was mourned as dead and a river was dragged for his body.

Yesterday Mrs. Martha Moffitt, his wife, appeared in court here in a suit for separate maintenance and Moffitt turned up to oppose the action.

Seeking to compel her long-missing husband to provide for her support Mrs. Moffitt told Superior Judge Leon Yankwich that she finally learned he still was alive and living in California with another woman under the name of C. A. Maple. "When I found him I learned they had a child," she said.

Moffitt admitted his wife's testimony was true, but insisted that she was aware of his action and had condoned it, and therefore was not entitled to support from him.

Judge Yankwich held that although the wife may have condoned Moffitt's action the laws of California could not do so. He ordered Moffitt to pay $50 a month.

PROPERTY OWNERS ON APPLETON-ST DISCUSS WIDENING

John Neller, Opposing Project, Suggest New Parking System

Methods for securing more travel lanes and more parking space on Appleton-st without widening the street were suggested by John H. Neller, of Pettibone-Peabody company at the meeting of Appleton-st property owners at city hall Wednesday evening.

The meeting was called to secure the sentiment of property owners on the proposed widening of the street. A petition asking for the improvement has been in the hands of the common council for some time, but it was felt that the viewpoints of many of the taxpayers had changed since the petition was signed and that a meeting at this time would be advisable.

Mayor John Goodland explained that the proposed plan was to widen the street three feet on each side, decreasing the width of the sidewalks to secure the needed space. Although admitting that the city is in a poor financial situation, Mayor Goodland stated that the widening of the street is necessary and that sooner or later it will have to be done. He presented figures to show that the widening would cost a little less than $1.00 a running foot on each side.

DOUBTS BENEFITS
Asserting that his company, though not obstructionists, could not yet see the benefits to be derived from the proposed improvement, Mr. Neller, equipped with charts and statistical information, explained how the congestion situation of the street can be improved without entering into a project that will be burdensome expense to both the city and the property owners. He suggested the elimination of parking on one side of the street, thereby providing more travel lanes, and advised diagonal parking. He estimated diagonal parking on one of the street would furnish four more parking spaces than are possible with horizontal parking on both sides of the street. As a remedy for the city's parking problem he suggested a single or double row of parking spaces in the center of College-ave.

Mr. Neller stated that upon investigation he had learned that an ornamental lighting system installed now could be moved at a nominal expense at a future date if widening of the street became urgent.

Declaring that the present width of the sidewalk is necessary as pedestrian traffic will never become less, Mr. Neller presented statistics showing that on two days last summer, Friday and Saturday, June 14 and 15, 12,000 persons had passed on the east side of Appleton-st between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning and 9 o'clock at night.

BACKWARD STEP, CLAIM

EXPECT $600 SUIT WILL GO TO JURY

Testimony was still being taken Thursday morning in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg in the suit for $600 brought by the H. C. Schranck company of Milwaukee against Martin Bolt and Sons and the Bold Modern bakery. The case opened Wednesday morning. The plaintiff rested shortly before noon Thursday and the defense had placed two witnesses on the stand before noon. The case is expected to go to the jury Wednesday afternoon. The Schranck company claims it sold the two local firms a bread mixer for $600 and that the bill has never been paid. The answer of the defendants denies it ever purchased a machine from the Milwaukee firm.

widening of the street and the resultant narrowing of the sidewalk would be a backward movement, and that unless the city is prepared to cut off enough of the buildings abutting on the street to provide the additional space, instead of taking it from the sidewalk, it would be wiser to let the street remain as it is.

That ornamental lights erected on a narrow sidewalk would make the street look like an alley, and give the lights the appearance of standing almost against the buildings was the sentiment of Claude Cannon.

Mrs. Mary K. Carroll pointed out that even now pedestrians are crowded on the street, especially when the doors of business places on the street which swing out are opened. Maurice Myse, countered with the statement that it is a violation of the building ordinance to have doors swinging out on the street.

Herman Kotke summed up his argument in the brief assertion that the street is congested and the sidewalks are not, and Peter Stark stated that he is in favor of the widening. Miss Sarah Golden opposed the project on the grounds that it involved too much expense, and Albert Hecht, who had signed the petition, asked that his name be stricken from the list as he had signed it under the impression that the street widening be 15 feet instead of three feet on each side.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Downer's Inc. adv.

Two Held In Slaying Of Iowa Child

Des Moines —(AP)—Culminating a statewide search that lasted for three days, two men sought on warrants claiming the killing of Evelyn Lee, the 9-year-old Des Moines school girl who was found dead after a criminal assault last Saturday, are in the custody of police after their arrest last night.

Carl McCune, 34, and Elmer Gibson, 35, were arrested shortly after their return to Des Moines from a weekend trip which they claimed was made to do odd jobs. They were picked up at the home of McCune's mother.

Sheriff Park Findley has warrants charging them with the killing of the little girl, who was secreted away on her journey home, but they are as yet unresponsive. The warrants were obtained yesterday by the sheriff who announced that he was seeking the pair.

The men were put through a grilling by the police shortly after their arrest but no results of the questioning have been made public. It is understood that they disavowed any connection with the crime.

Witnesses who assert they saw a machine drive up to the curb and watched its driver invite Evelyn for a ride last Saturday were called to identify, if possible, either of the men. L. J. Strayer, one of the witnesses, said he could not positively identify them.

Police confiscated a garbage truck owned by McCune, answering the general appearance of the car in which the girl was said to have been abducted. The car, however, differs somewhat from the early description of the killers' car. Its battered

GLENNA IN FINALS OF BRITISH MEET

Yankee Girl Defeats Enid Wilson One Up in Afternoon Round

Formby —(AP)—Glenna Collett won her way to the final of the British women's golf championship today by defeating Enid Wilson, one up.

The American champion held an eight foot putt for a birdie three to win the eighteenth hole and the condition conflicts with other statements that it had a fresh coat of paint.

Both men will be given an opportunity to establish alibis for their whereabouts over the weekend when they are questioned today by Sheriff Findley, who was too ill with a cold last night to query the suspects.

match. Both semi-finalists played good. Miss Collett having a medal score of 79 for the round while Miss Wilson scored 82.

Miss Collett will oppose Miss Diana Fishwick in a 36 hole final match for the championship tomorrow.

Miss Fishwick this afternoon defeated Miss Kathleen MacDonald, Scotland, with comparative ease, 4 up and four to play.

Miss Helen Hicks, hard hitting Yankee girl who had been considered a contender for the final round lost in the morning to Enid Wilson 5 up and 4 to play. Miss Hicks never got going against Miss Wilson.

3 GROUPS ALREADY ENTERED IN HOME MERCHANT CONTEST

Expect More Rural Groups to Compete for $30 Cash Prizes on May 23

Three rural groups already have entered the Appleton Home Merchant's contest which will be a part of the program on Friday, May 23, in conjunction with Home Merchant's day.

Those which have entered are the Kimberly school, Triangle rural school, and the Golden Hill Parent Teacher association, town of Maple Creek. Several other rural organizations have signified their intentions of entering the contest.

Inasmuch as there will be room for only 12 groups on the program, A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, who is taking the registrations, has urged rural groups to send in their entries as soon as possible.

Cash prizes of $15, $10 and $5 are to be awarded to the three groups presenting the best entertainment on the afternoon program, which will be staged at the Armory.

This afternoon program is one feature of Home Merchant's day.

In the morning of that day more than 150 rural school athletes will gather at Wilson Junior high school athletic field for the eighth annual county field meet. Loving cups will be awarded by the Appleton Post-Crescent for the winners in these events. In addition there will be medals for the winners of first, second and third places in each event.

EAT AT PARKS

At noon the rural visitors will go to the various parks in the city for their luncheon. The program at the Armory starts at 2:30. Each rural group presenting an entertainment feature on the afternoon program will be allowed 15 minutes.

George Johnston, a member of the committee on arrangements, and Mr. Meating, will have charge of the program. Prize winners in this contest will be announced at the evening mass meeting at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

The feature of the evening meeting will be an address by Phil Grau, Milwaukee attorney and lecturer; a short program by the Appleton high school band; and distribution of more than $800 in cash prizes to the rural school graduates to help them on their trip to Washington, D. C.

The merchants point out that the entire day's program is designed to aid the rural school graduates. An admission fee of 10 cents is being charged for the afternoon and evening programs, with one admission serving for both events. All money collected from admissions is being donated by the merchants to help those graduates pay their fare to Washington if they cannot raise sufficient funds themselves. Expenses of the day's program, including the cash prizes, are being borne by the merchants.

CHIEF ISSUES WARNING ON THEFT OF FLOWERS

Police Chief George T. Prim Thursday issued a warning on stealing flowers. The chief said he has received a number of complaints during the past week from residents who say that "gangs" of school boys and girls have been raiding their flower beds. The chief said that in some instances these marauders have trampled down plants and ruined shrubbery and bushes. He said that officers have been instructed to watch for these offenders and if they are caught they will be taken into court.

DARK RED DAHLIA OPENS PETALS IN GARDEN IN CITY

With much coddling and nursing, one small dahlia was brought to the blooming point for the Flower and Garden show in Appleton last June. This year, without any particular attention outside of the warm sunshine and much rain, a dark red dahlia flowered in the garden of Mrs. R. H. Mueller, 1115 N. Harriman-st. on Mother's Day. The plant has two buds besides the flower. The bulb was set out two weeks before Mother's day because it was sprouting so actively in the basement of the Mueller home, its winter quarters. Dahlias seldom bloom before June.

On Thursday afternoon delegates were taken on a drive through the city, which ended with a lecture by the noted artist and teacher, Herr Hoffman of Munich, Germany, at the University. Herr Hoffman's speech was translated to the audience by an interpreter. In the evening the annual dinner dance was held at the Leanington hotel, headquarters of the convention.

During the convention school art exhibits were displayed in the lobby of the hotel. The displays included public school art work from the first grade through the senior high school, and works from teachers colleges and art institutes.

CITY IS ASKED TO REFUND TAXES IN CIRCUIT COURT SUIT

Catholic Home Association Asks City to Return $253.60 for 1929

Notice has been served on the city of Appleton through Mayor John Goodland, of a suit started by the Catholic Home association seeking refund of $253.60 which the association paid in taxes for 1929. The city has 20 days to answer the suit which is to be filed in circuit court, according to T. H. Ryan, attorney for the Catholic Home association.

It is the contention of the association that it is not subject to taxes because it is a charitable, benevolent and educational institution and that stockholders cannot receive any dividends. There are 1,500 shares issued by the organization at $10 apiece and the charter provides that these shares cannot be sold for more than was paid for them. The stock pays no dividend.

Taxes for 1929 were paid under protest, the complaint says, and the common council has refused to refund the amount.

Mr. Ryan said that this is to be a test case and if the decision is against the association in court here the matter will be appealed to the supreme court.

Rumor Sandino Leading New Revolt In Nicaragua

16 BANDITS DIE IN SIX FIGHTS, REPORT SAYS

Former Insurgent Chief Said to Be Active in Recent Outbreaks

Managua, Nicaragua.—(P)—United States marines and the marine-stationed national guard have recommended intensive activity in northern Nicaragua against groups described in an official statement as bandits. In six encounters between May 5 and May 12 sixteen bandits were killed.

Commander General Douglas MacDougal of the Nicaraguan national guard, and a colonel of marines in an official report of the encounters, said all the men killed were red hat bands and they only insignia. He said he did not believe there was any central leader to the military opposition.

An investigation is being made of unconfirmed rumors Augustino Sandino, former self-exiled insurgent chief, has returned to Nicaragua from Merida, Yucatan, by way of Salvador, and is now directing another insurgent force.

The first of the encounters mentioned on May 5 took place at Naranjo, near the Honduran border, two bandits were captured and a small quantity of arms confiscated. The surrounding hills were found well fortified with breastworks and trenches.

On May 6 a small patrol preparing to camp for the night was ambushed and one guardsman was wounded. On the next day occurred the action at San Juan, when 100 men opened fire from four sides on a marine and constabulary patrol. Firing went on for two hours before the enemy retired on two sides, and another half hour before they retired on the other two sides.

10 DIE IN FIGHT
It was in this battle that grenades and machine guns were used extensively. Four guards were killed and two wounded, and all the supplies and one of the pack animals were lost. The bandits lost six dead.

A small patrol on May 8 captured 15 horses, saddled, dynamic, arms, ammunition, and staple bombs during a fight with another enemy group at Amacayan. There were no casualties on either side.

Two persons were killed in another encounter May 10 at Aguacate, near Ocotlán. Both were believed to have identified a lesser chieftain of the former insurgent movement. In the Miraflores mountains near Talá the marines and constabulary fought with a group of about 25. Six of the enemy were found dead in the woods after the fight.

REPORTED ON WAY BACK
Vera Cruz, Mexico.—(P)—Advices have been received here that the Nicaraguan insurgent leader, Augustino Sandino, will be found again shortly in Nicaragua. He and his aides are supposed to have passed through here incognito April 25 from the place of self-exile in Merida, Yucatan, and to be now in the interior of Guatemala.

Mexico City dispatches said that Sandino and his aides had left Mexico by way of airplanes for the department of Nuevo Segovia, Nicaragua.

26 MILLION PAID FOR INSURANCE IN STATE
Madison.—(P)—Insurance companies collected $25,917,351 from Wisconsin residents for all classes of insurance during 1929, and paid back $12,105,469 in losses, according to the annual report of Milion Freeby, state insurance commissioner, now being published.

The amount paid for premiums during 1929 was $1,755,266 more than that paid in 1928. Premiums paid in 1928 in the state totaled $24,162,085.

Losses to the insurance companies also increased during the year, jumping from $10,815,087 in 1928 to $12,105,469 in 1929.

Stock fire insurance companies collected $10,505,205 during the year, and suffered losses of $5,318,257, according to the report. The amount in premiums by the fire insurance companies in 1928 was $18,246, 638. Losses in that year were $7,860,638.

OBTAIN QUORUM BY ARRESTING MEMBERS
Washington.—(P)—A minor agricultural bill was the cause last night of a filibuster in the usually well-regulated house, and the arrest of absentee members among them Speaker Longworth—for the purpose of obtaining a quorum.

Vigorous opposition to the measure carried the day's session well into the evening and then it was discovered the chamber could neither take action on the bill nor adjourn, nor want of the necessary majority of the membership.

Those present, however, could vote on the bill, and the speaker's attempt to bring the chamber to order was frustrated by the speaker's attempt to bring the chamber to order.

FINED FOR PARKING THEIR CARS TOO LONG
Three drivers, arrested for parking their cars on College-ave. Wednesday for more than 90 minutes in violation of the city ordinance, were fined $1 and costs each by Theodore Long in municipal court Thursday morning. They were: J. M. Conner, 218 N. Milwaukee; Sydney H. Hays, 1409 N. Richmond; and Ray Longueue, 117 E. Harvard. Two others also arrested Wednesday, were court later to answer charges. They are: C. J. Gayer, 1516 Sixth-st., and C. P. Swanson, 1516 Sixth-st.

Kohler Case Expected To Reach Jury Today

convicted, Kohler might be sentenced to three years in state's prison. The Kohler accounting system, Thomas said, accounts for the failure to charge campaign expenses to sponsors until after the campaign. "Besides," he said, "they didn't know in what proportion these were to be charged."

"The governor took the stand and told you of his life. That was a humiliating experience for him, but it was necessary because we wanted to lay the foundation for the judgment of the jury."

"You are asked to believe that after the governor entered the campaign he suddenly turned criminal. You are asked to believe that the governor violated the corrupt practices act after first preparing a digest of it."

Referring to inconsistencies in bookkeeping, he said: "It means that they don't leave tracks like that behind them."

When court recessed at noon he still was on his argument.

"It is a question," he said, "whether the votes shall be counted or not; whether the wishes of the voters shall be heeded."

"This suit not only implies the governor violated the law but was contemptible about it; that he conspired with his mother, sisters, veteran associates."

"It means that by the state's claims these persons are made common, ordinary perjurers. It means that all the governor has built up in 53 years will be destroyed."

"Governor Kohler is too big a man to stoop to these small things."

"The state's case," he said, "is based not upon open testimony but entirely on the John Doe hearing at Madison. The first time the governor saw his testimony there was at the opening of this suit."

Discussing the prosecutors and judge at the hearing, he called Prosecutor Daniel Grady a "crafty, capable, competent lawyer grown gray in the service. When Grady was learning the art of cross-examination, the governor was working in his factory."

CITES KOHLER ASSOCIATE
Citing the testimony of Kohler's associate that they had been told to "keep the company out of the campaign," Thomas asserted: "There are ten witnesses against these one or two statements from the John Doe hearing. It is an inconsistency to claim the governor made arrangements for separate accounts of campaign expenditures and to claim he settled everything after the primary."

He dismissed with a word the state's questioning concerning records destroyed after the John Doe hearing and argue that by no construction could L. P. Chase, company attorney, be considered Kohler's personal agent.

"Is it," he asked, "probable that the governor would entrust to a new employee, a young attorney, the whole business of spending thousands of dollars? You couldn't say the governor is imbecile."

There was no secrecy, he said, about the free meals served pilgrims to Kohler village.

"It is inconsistent with testimony that Chase was arranging all these things. Where did Marie Kohler come in?"

Special Prosecutor Harold M. Wilkie closed the state's arguments yesterday, attempting to show Kohler spent more than the legal $4,000 in his 1928 campaign. He told the jury evidence agency had been established between Kohler and L. P. Chase, Kohler corporation attorney, regarding expenditures made by the company in behalf of Kohler candidacy.

Defense attorneys admitted more than $4,000 was spent, but insisted Kohler had not authorized excess expenditures.

QUOTES KOHLER
Wilkie cited testimony from a John Doe (closed) hearing at Madison, in which he quoted Kohler as saying "I didn't handle matters of expense personally but put such matters in Chase's hands." That Wilkie said, established agency.

The question the jurors are to consider are based largely upon attempts to determine Kohler's connection, if any, with expenditures made by the corporation which he heads. The state charges that more than $50,000 was spent in the campaign and huge sums were spent at Kohler, by the company to entertain voters with intent of influencing their votes.

Wilkie insisted Governor Kohler's testimony in the present case was not direct.

"Governor Kohler hasn't put his cards on the table," he said. "He has made several nice talks about the beautiful homes in his model city and the conditions of the streets there, but he failed to come out like a man and testify bluntly."

In a three-hour closing argument, Wilkie devoted most of his time in attempts to show Chase was a direct agent of the governor. He used testimony from the John Doe hearing extensively.

Defense attorneys interrupted frequently to call attention to the fact Wilkie was using arguments previously ruled out of testimony. Several times Judge Gehrz sustained objections but informed attorneys "that is a matter of argument."

Wilkie charged the defense failed to call Chase to the stand because they "were afraid of cross-examination of their witness."

Planning for Memorial day were heard by members of a permanent committee arranging for the program. Wednesday evening at Knights of Pythias hall, August Arens was named marshal of the day and will arrange the line of march, meeting place for various groups and details of the movement from the chapel down College-ave back to the chapel and to Riverside cemetery.

School children again will be asked to participate in the program, Frank Younger and Ben J. Rohan, having charge of the arrangement. W. H. Zuehlke is chairman of the program committee and told the group two speakers were being considered. He will announce the speaker and chairman of the day sometime next week.

NOVELTY CLEANERS CONTINUES BUSINESS
No change in the ownership or status of the Novelty Cleaners, 215 E. College-ave, is contemplated, according to Charles Sparling owner of the dry cleaning and pressing business, despite the fact the building in which the company is located has been advertised for sale. The Novelty Cleaners have a long lease on the building, according to Mr. Sparling and will continue business at the present location regardless of the sale of the building.

KEEP UP EDUCATION AFTER GRADUATION, WRISTON POINTS OUT
Alumni Circulating Library at Lawrence College Described by Him
Chicago.—(P)—Emphasizing the need for extension of education to persons after graduation President Henry M. Wriston of Lawrence college, Appleton, last night told delegates to the fifth annual meeting of the American Association for Adult Education of an experiment conducted by his college conducive to continued education.

The campaign for adult education, he said, was furthered by Lawrence college in the use of a circulating library among alumni of the school. Henry Wriston said that in the 10 years following graduation, alumni gave little heed to reading. Reading, he said, was the basis of adult education. Last year Lawrence college asked the graduating class to read books recommended by the college library. The result, he said, was gratifying. Half the class signed, and lists of books were sent them.

"The response of the alumni has been remarkable," he said. "More than 25 per cent responded, asking for books or notifying that they were getting them from local libraries. A third of the demand came from alumni of the last five years."

In addition to the library suggestions, Dr. Wriston said the college included alumni meetings as means of spurring adult education. At these meetings, education as a mode of obtaining betterment in life was kept as a central subject, he said.

Developing the idea of the need for continuation of contact with cultural subjects during the ten years following graduation, ten years of adjustment to vocational and social position. He stated that the need for education to be planned as a progressive whole from the grades on through life instead of in small incoherent units.

"It is true that college methods have not always contributed to reading habits," Dr. Wriston said. "Books have been looked at as ends in themselves rather than tools with which things might be achieved. But we cannot attempt a curative program among the alumni. The project will succeed only insofar as it is a continuation of a habit of independent reading and thought begun in college."

After a brief survey of the projection and methods used in the alumni reading service at Lawrence, Dr. Wriston summed up the aim of the movement by saying:

"Because we are a college of liberal arts, and because we are committed to the idea that no man is educated unless he is something of a social philosopher, unless his tastes are catholic, and his life is consciously built about values or historical urges, we are anxious to promote sympathy with and interest in anything that touches life and its significance."

WEATHERMAN SAYS COLD WILL STAY
Appleton's unagreeable weather will hang around at least another day, according to weather forecasts made Thursday.

The report is that the skies will be cloudy again Thursday night and Friday with showers possible Friday. There will be little change in the temperature.

The drop in the mercury Wednesday night to 42 degrees made it necessary for homeowners to start fire to take the chill off the house and the rise in temperature to only 54 for the day's high, added little to the spring spirit that is supposed to be about.

"OTHER WOMAN" KILLED BY WIFE AT MOBILE
Mobile, Ala.—(P)—Mrs. Frances Hines, 26, was shot to death last night, according to authorities, by Mrs. Angelo S. Puckett, 33, who said she trailed her husband to a residential section, crowded his car to the curb, alighted and in a dispute fired twice at Mrs. Hines, who sat beside Puckett on the front seat.

Solicitor Bart Chamberlain and Sheriff Pat Byrne, who questioned Mrs. Puckett, said she accused Mrs. Hines of "breaking up her home."

Mrs. Hines was estranged from her husband, a garage mechanic. Puckett is a Mobile-co license inspector. Mrs. Puckett surrendered to county deputies at her home and was held on a charge of murder.

BERRY GROWERS WILL MEET FRIDAY NIGHT
The New London Berry Growers' association will gather at that city Friday night to make plans for the coming season. Gus Sell, county agent, plans to attend the conference. About 20 growers from Appleton, New London, Weyauwega, Hortonville and Seymour are members of this association. At a meeting earlier this month at Hortonville the association elected the following officers: Elwood Brewer, New London, president; Reinhold Boltz, New London, vice-president; Sebastian Gogers, Hortonville, secretary and treasurer.

ROAD GROUP INSPECTS THREE GRAVEL PITS
The county highway committee Tuesday made trips to the gravel pits of three contractors, which submitted bids on the improvement of Highway 25 between New London and Black Creek. These bidders are: C. H. Peters, Fremont; Greunke Brothers company, Appleton; and Frank Murphy, route 6, Appleton. Peters was the low bidder on about 1,800 yards of gravel. He bid 90 cents per yard in the bids and $1.80 per yard delivered. The Greunke brothers were next with a bid of $1.80 per yard delivered. The committee decided that it would only put about 600 yards of gravel on this road and if it is, Peters will accept the contract with that number of yards, he will be given the job. If Mr. Peters will not take the contract, then it is to be given to the Greunke brothers.

YANK GOLFERS WIN 3 MATCHES FROM BRITISH AMATEURS
George Von Elm and George Voigt Members of Defeated Team
Sandwich, England.—(P)—The American Walker cup team today stepped out in front of its British rival to win three of the four four-person golf matches of the international golf competition. The blue ribbon golf event for international amateurs closes tomorrow with eight singles matches.

Robert T. Jones, Jr., Atlanta, and Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland, Ore., defeated T. A. Torrance and Rex Hartley, eight up and seven to play.

Donald Moe, Portland, Ore., and Roland Mackenzie, Wilmington, Del., won from Sir Ernest Holderness and J. A. Stout, two up and one to play.

Francis Oulmet, Boston, and Harrison R. Johnston, St. Paul, defeated William Campbell and John Nelson Smith, two up and one to play.

The lone American reverse was suffered by George von Elm, Detroit, and George Voigt, New York, who were defeated, two up, by Cyril Tooley and Robert Welkner.

In the singles matches tomorrow the eight Americans who played the foursomes today will compete again but the British may substitute two of its team.

Bobby Jones, captain of the American team was elated at the good start for his side, as he would have been satisfied with an even break in the foursomes. However, he was not over confident.

"We may not find that advantage tomorrow," he said.

He admitted with a grin that he will sleep easier tonight with a two point lead.

The Americans now need only to win three of the singles to retain possession of the famous cup which never has been won by the British.

In the singles tomorrow the pairings will be:

Johnston vs. Tooley.
Jones vs. Welkner.
Von Elm vs. Hartley.
Voigt vs. Holderness.
Willing vs. Smith.
Oulmet vs. Torrance.
Moe vs. Stout.
Mackenzie vs. Campbell.

Brussels.—(P)—The Belgian public debt was decreased by $48,000,000 in 1929, leaving its total at $1,453,000,000. This $769,000,000 represents foreign debt and $684,000,000 domestic obligations.

The United States sells something like $80,000,000 worth of American merchandise to Spain annually, and buy more than $40,000,000 worth in return.

COMMITTEE GRANTS PETITIONS FOR AID
Six new mother's pensions and five new old age pensions were granted at a meeting of the county board poor committee at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon. The committee also granted 19 renewals of mother's pensions and held one application for an old age pension open for further investigation.

LIBSON MONUMENTS DECAYING IN PARKS
Libson.—(P)—Every public man in Portugal has his monument, if not actually in stone, at least on paper.

When a national hero dies a subscription is opened immediately by his admirers for the preservation of his memory in stone, but, beyond the selection of the site and the laying of the traditional cornerstone, accompanied by a flood of oratory, it usually is the rule that nothing more is heard of the pious intention.

Every public square and city park of the capital contains unfinished monuments protected by scaffolding. This is especially the case of the impressive monuments for the "Martyrs of the Republic" and the nation's "War Dead," which, although their foundations were laid twenty and ten years ago, are mouldering away forlorn and forsaken.

Even the king of all navigators, the immortal Vasco da Gama who gave this country India and chartered unknown seas, was denied the honor of a monument in the capital. The pedestal was laid a couple of hundred years ago but is only gathering moss.

The "Povo" rehearses these facts and makes fun of the authors of a project to erect a monument to Antonio de Almeida, late president of Portugal.

VENIZELLOS MAINTAINS STEADY HELM IN GREECE
Athens.—(P)—Continuation of Greece's threefold policy during 1929 has been promised by Eleutherios Venizelos, premier, writing in the newspaper Hestia.

He declared that the government will continue its efforts to improve living conditions, strengthen internal and external peace, and better the general economic position by further development of the country's resources.

This program, he said, calls for cheaper dwelling, better hygiene, development of agriculture by the establishment of agricultural banks and schools exploitation of lignite, increased tourist traffic, the establishment of an economic council, and improvement of the mercantile marine.

REDS FEW BUT NOISY IN PHILIPPINE ISLES
Manila.—(P)—Communists are scarce among the Filipinos but are vocal at every opportunity.

In the recent school strike, for example, they tried to butt into the dispute between students and a teacher who, it was asserted, had insulted the native people, and issued a red manifesto urging the youths to fight imperialism. But when the objectionable instructor was removed, the youngsters went back to their books.

Similar activity is shown whenever there is a labor strike.

The few Filipinos who have gone in for communism have not done very well, chiefly because they have not found an effective means of guarding their cash box. The local reds receive a subsidy, reported as $50 a month, from Moscow and the money is supposed to be used to support students of communism in Russia.

But when the last time came for selecting a student to go to Moscow it was found that there were no funds. Moreover it was further discovered that one of the local leaders had bought an automobile. This led to a split from which the organization has not fully recovered.

RECTOR ACCEPTS CALL TO COME TO EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Rev. Lyle Douglas Utts, Corry, Pa., Will Arrive Here in June
The Rev. Lyle Douglas Utts of Corry, Pa., has accepted a call to the rectorship of All Saints Episcopal church, a position which has been vacant since the resignation of the Rev. H. S. Gately. The Rev. Mr. Utts will preach his farewell service at Corry on Sunday, June 8, and will arrive in Appleton with his family during the week following.

The Rev. Mr. Utts who was elected by the vestry of All Saints church, was born in Davenport, Ia. When he was 16 years of age his family moved to Baltimore, where he graduated from Baltimore City college with a liberal arts degree.

He then entered upon a musical career, finishing his work at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and opening a joint studio in Chicago with Benjamin Klausner, Czech violinist. During this time Mr. Utts became interested in the work of the church, and accepted the position of Boys' Work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Grand Rapids, Mich.

TOOK SPECIAL COURSE
During his work as Y. M. C. A. secretary, he took a special course in religious education and received the degree of B.R.E. From this work he went into service as a soldier in the United States army during the World War, serving in the chemical warfare branch. Before receiving orders for embarkation, he was married to Miss Laura Dorothy Douris.

At the close of the war Mr. Utts entered Bexley Hall, the divinity school at Kenyon college and graduated with the degree of B.D. He was ordained to the diaconate in 1924 and to the priesthood in 1925. His post-graduate work was then taken in 1927 he received the degree of Ph.D. from Columbia.

During his studies at Bexley Hall, he served the mission at London, Ohio, and during the period of his diaconate, preached at St. Paul parish at Greenville, Ohio. During his rectorate at Corry, Pa., he served as city Boy Scout executive and as chaplain of the Masonic lodge. He also is a member of the Rotary club and has established a junior choir school of boys and girls that has attracted state-wide attention.

Mrs. Utts has been active in the work of the church and in community service, serving as secretary of the Emmanuel guild, senior advisor of the Girls' Friendly, and captain of the Girl Scouts. She is a member of the Eastern Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Utts have two sons and a daughter.

STUDENTS PLANT TREE SEEDLINGS
800 Norway and White Pine and Spruce Trees Are Set Out in Hortonia
More than 110 rural school students attended a tree planting demonstration on the Jesse Lathrop farm, town of Hortonia, Wednesday afternoon. The demonstration was conducted by Gus Sell, county agent, and A. G. Meathing, county superintendent of schools. It was the second of its kind this week, another having held the previous day near Stephentown.

The planting Wednesday gave the rural pupils an opportunity to study the growth of a previous planting on the same plot, which was made last year. It was found that about 65 per cent of the old planting had rooted and was making good progress. The dead seedlings were removed and new ones were planted in their places. About 800 new seedlings were set out.

After the planting the students also inspected a special planting of about 1,000 seedlings which had been made by Mr. Lathrop, Norway and white pine and spruce seedlings were used.

Mr. Sell gave a short talk, after the planting was completed, on the purposes of reforestation.

Mr. Meathing and Mr. Sell are making arrangements for the planting of a third plot of trees in the eastern part of the county. The location has not yet been chosen.

WAGE EARNERS DECREASE
The manufacturing census showed a drop of from 9,096,000 wage earners in 1919 to 8,016,000 in 1927. Railroad workers fell from 2,023,000 in 1920 to 1,733,000 in 1926. According to the Commerce Department, eight groups of industries reduced working forces by 1,822,000 between 1929 and 1927, including 800,000 displaced by agricultural mechanization.

Mergers and consolidations, cutting down overhead and working forces, are also hitting the white collar and executive classes in a similar manner, the writer points out — "the physical machine displaces hand labor, the business machine displaces brains."

UNEMPLOYMENT CAUSED BY MACHINES Major Problem
"Whether comparable disasters lurk in the present intensification of the mechanization of industry?"
American industry can easily make in eight months all it can dispose of in 12, jobs become scarcer and scarcer and population begins to lag so that by 1950 it probably will become stationary, according to Knappen.

That technological unemployment merely releases workers who are absorbed by new industries he regards as an "optimistic theory." "It is obvious that they do not provide jobs as fast as new machines in the old industries destroy jobs."

"Is mechanization about to turn on and devour itself? The American Federation of Labor's calculations show that 9 per cent of wage earners are out of jobs on account of mechanization, even when factories are running at full speed under the highest pressure. Are we approaching a condition wherein the machine will destroy its market by driving from its payrolls the people who consume its product? A handful of men and endless rows of machinery in vast buildings—multitudes of unemployed outside. . . . Production perfected, consumption destroyed."

Manned by only 120 men, a machine in Milwaukee turns out 8000 automobile chassis frames a day. One of the most modern European plants it takes 200 men to produce 35 frames a day.

In the making of glass bottles during the last few years machinery has multiplied the product of human labor 41 times and skill has gone out of the business. In the boot and shoe industry 100 machines take the place of 25,000 men. Seven men have replaced 80 men as the labor unit casting pig iron. A team of two men leads the pig iron which formerly required 128 men.

In the steel mills 42 men have given way to one man around open hearth furnaces.

With improved cranes three men do the work of 23 in steel mills and one improved loading crane substitutes a gang of five men for one of 48. The man who once made 450 bricks in a day now watches a machine make 40,000 in a day. Railroad trains, with greater speed, power and length, have displaced their toll. The automobile industry has reduced the number of men to a given output by not less than 65 per cent in 16 years, although it has come to employ far more people with increasing production. A large industrial shovel digs and loads dirt as fast as 400 men.

"It would not be a wild guess to say that a million men are chronically out of work because machines are coming in faster than the industry thereby made open up collateral completely new industries," says Knappen, pointing out that this estimate applied to a period of peak prosperity.

L'FOLLETTE BAND FINDS NEW WORRY OVER GOV. KOHLER

That Explains Determined Effort to Oust Him from Office

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Sheboygan, Wis. (CPA)—The LaFollette forces, long dominant in Wisconsin, have run against a new type political buzz saw in the form of Governor Walter J. Kohler, and not only are they hurt, but alarmed as well.

This is given here as explanation for the dogged effort on the part of the state's radicals to oust the executive from office for asserted violation of the corrupt practices act during his campaign for nomination in 1928. If the judgment of the state's best political prognosticators is to be taken, they have picked the wrong man and the wrong method to attack on this ground.

A candidate for governor in Wisconsin is permitted to spend four thousand dollars. Others may spend unlimited amounts to secure his election provided they are not his direct, authorized agents. Governor Kohler reported $2,750 as his personal campaign expense in the 1928 primary and after four weeks of trial that amount stood intact with prosecutors haggling over pennies that went into meals at the village of Kohler and dollars that it took to transport a Kohler hand as possible additions.

HAS STATE "FIND"

It all is significant, not only as a test of the practicability of corrupt practices acts now drawn, but because Wisconsin republicans feel that they have "a find"—the first of the sort since Emmanuel L. Phillip, Milwaukee manufacturer, smote the LaFollette candidates 16 years ago. They think that a figure is rising who might topple the LaFollette Dynasty, and evidence that the LaFollettes feel the same way is indicated by the bitterness with which they are battling him.

Governor Kohler is an unusual politician. He is many times a millionaire. Prior to 1928, he had never held political office. At that time a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention died. Mr. Kohler was asked to run in his place and consented. When the votes were counted he was right on the heels of Senators LaFollette and John J. Egan. Politicians were astounded. Some at once wanted him to run against Senator LaFollette, who was up for nomination. Others told him that he was the Republican hope for governor and after much persuasion, he consented to run. He swept into the nomination, and then into office, carrying Wisconsin for Hoover in the face of active campaigning by Senator Blaine against him.

Now the governor is to seek re-nomination in September, and the LaFollettes are getting ready to lumber their biggest guns against him. Senator Blaine is credited with inspiring the attack on the Governor's campaign expenditures because Wisconsin now looks for a Blaine Kohler fight for the senate in the primaries of 1932.

KOHLER IS LIBERAL

This manufacturer is credited with having captured the imagination of the state. The village named after his family, four miles outside of Sheboygan, is one of the state's show spots. Mr. Kohler, while a big business man, is a liberal on social and economic questions. He pays high wages, lays off no men in time of depression, maintains an advanced program of social insurance for his workers. As governor he signed a bill invalidating "yellow dog contracts," which are designed to keep men from joining unions—giving Wisconsin the first legislation on this subject in the union.

Personally, the governor is a rugged, athletic type. He is a dapper rider, catches on company baseball teams on occasion, and is an expert on skates. He owns an airplane, and flies. Two of his sons are licensed pilots. He is a connoisseur of art, and a lover of music.

The problem of governing he sees as a social and economic problem. Under the LaFollette regime it was a policy in Wisconsin to have no industry. Governor Kohler would foster and encourage industry and in-

EMBALMERS WILL NEED HIGHER EDUCATION

Madison (CP)—Higher education will be the prerequisite for embalmers in Wisconsin after July 31.

Those aspiring to the embalming profession who have had only the advantages of an eighth grade schooling in addition to an apprenticeship may take examinations here July 22 and 23, the state board of health announced today.

The examinations given on those dates will be the last under the old law. The new law going into effect July 31 requires the equivalent of a high school education and two years' experience under a licensed embalmer or at least six months' experience and a diploma of graduation from an accredited embalming school.

According to the state board of health, there are 1,485 embalmers licensed in Wisconsin.

appeal on that score drew widespread popular support. On the wet and dry issue he has been in the strange position of having both the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon League and of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

A candidate who draws that way is considered formidable and the LaFollette organization has had its thinking apparatus functioning overtime devising ways to put an end to this Kohler threat against its security.

Hollywood, Calif. It wasn't really anybody's fault. How would a mere man director know that you don't need a stove to make an omelet?

Jack Buchanan, the "Maurice Chevalier of London," is playing opposite the blonde soprano in a film being shot at Paramount. He is the six foot Scot who scored an instantaneous hit in the first Charlie review and subsequently threw New York into an uproar with the trousers being shot at Paramount. # "YOUNG GUARD" OUT FOR PEACE IN G. O. P.

Three of Them Are Named on Republican Steering Committee

Washington (CP)—Sizing up their position after recent organization moves, some republicans are getting a "young guard" into the party. Three of them are named on the republican steering committee of five: Senator McNary, Oregon, who is on general good terms with all of the troubled republican factions; Senator Hiram, Delaware, and Keen New Jersey—have been named by Senator Watson, Indiana, republican party leader, to serve on the republican steering committee of five.

"young guard" as well as the "old guard," is the chairman.

The "young guard" group, which suddenly came into existence during the last year, is composed of the more energetic in the republican ranks, and principally from the west and middle west, sought to become things.

An offer of compromise from the "young guard" on the tariff bill, however, was spurned by the western independents. There have been other moves leading to some sort of harmony in the republican ranks.

Only YOU can train your wave

A "permanent" that is set once a week and neglected in a corner is a deadly looking. No one but yourself can give you the hint on it. It needs to have a smart appearance. You comb it night and morning. While giving it this necessary attention you can easily train the wave to such perfection that it will be out of place. Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and sheen makes it simple for you to give your wave the soft, snail undulations that it cannot possibly have with out a training. Finally the wave is in place with the mere touch of a comb. Each morning instead of applying hot water, set your wave with Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and sheen. It really trains the hair and gives it a lustre that makes your waving a pleasure at all toilet counts.

THE ZUELKE BUILDING

One of the most gratifying business announcements this year was that construction of an office building is to be started at once by Irving Zuelke on his building site at the corner of College avenue and Oneida street. The announcement, at a time when there is an uneasiness over business conditions, is most opportune and should have the effect of buoying confidence not only in the stability of business in general but in the future of Appleton as well.

A six story office building on one of the most prominent business corners in the city will be an improvement to which our citizens can point with justifiable pride. It will be another indication that Appleton is growing and prospering and further incentive to investigation of this city as a desirable place in which to live. Construction of this building, together with a census report showing an increase of over 29 per cent in population in ten years is most satisfactory proof that Appleton is an up and coming city.

Mr. Zuelke deserves the commendation of Appleton people for his enterprise and civic interest.

BRITAIN'S INDIAN PROBLEM

Reports from India seem to indicate that the government will have no great difficulty in putting down the insurrection. The decision to arrest the leaders of the civil resistance movement promises to get the best of it before it has reached alarming proportions. Militant, forceful leadership is essential to the success of Gandhi's aims. When it is removed there is nothing left to give the uprising vitality and it settles into inertia. This does not mean that it has been killed, for we may be certain that the nationalist movement in India will continue to grow until it attains its ultimate ends. We say ultimate for the reason that the aims today are complete independence, whereas in the years to come they are likely to be modified to an acceptance of dominion status within the British empire.

With India it is quite as much resistance to western culture as to British political power. India is changing, but whether she can bring herself to accept the western system only the future can tell. She seems to be a long ways from it, much farther than Egypt, where the demand of women for emancipation is beginning to make itself felt. It has been said that the Japanese revolution, for instance, was due to Japanese perception of the success of western methods, and the necessity for adapting herself quickly if she did not wish to be overwhelmed. A similar process is taking place in Turkey. Mustapha Kemal is revolutionizing that country by the sheer force of rationality. It is contended that the present situation in India is due to British failure to "occidentalize" India, due to a lack of understanding as to what Indians liked and did not like about western ideas and ideals. One authority asserts that the uprising represents a re-assertion of Indian-ness and that it is India's challenge to the West.

Whatever may be the final determination of India's status, both political and social, it is inevitable, we think, that oriental standards and foundations will have to give way to occidental. India will have to modernize herself, along with all other nations. With her as with the others it is solely a question of time and process. It is difficult for China, for instance, but she will accomplish it. India is likely to hasten her improvement and evolution if she will accept British guidance. British colonial policy does not change. It is essentially the same whether there is a labor, a conservative or a liberal ministry. The last thing in the world England thinks of is giving up India. It is one of the cornerstones of the empire. We may have all of the sympathy we may wish for Indian aspirations, but it will be a long time if ever before it can be utilized for India's benefit. Britain's real problem in India is not the methods of its political power there; it is the development of Indian institutions to conform harmoniously with the western system.

TRADE AT HOME

Trading at home is a virtue that should be cultivated in every family, not only as a matter of civic pride but as good business. Just why some people will do a portion or all of their trading in other than their home community is difficult to ascertain.

A dollar will buy only a dollar value no matter where it is spent. While some people may be misled for a time by propaganda about values that can be found elsewhere, sooner or later they must learn that the dollar will buy as much in Appleton as in any other city and that the lure of bargains in foreign fields is only a mirage.

Buying at home results in a sense of security that is totally lacking when purchases are made elsewhere. There is the certain knowledge that every purchase made at home is backed by the reputation and the integrity of the local merchant and that he not only is willing but eager that the customer be entirely satisfied.

The local merchant, doing business with his friends, views his relationship with his customers in an entirely different light than the merchant in a foreign community doing business with strangers whom he may never see again.

Trading at home is an encouragement to the merchant at home. Trading elsewhere is an expression of lack of confidence in the home community. If Appleton provides the means of livelihood, its merchants and institutions should receive first consideration from Appleton people.

DECLINE OF POLITICS

Shortly after his campaign manager and eight of his workers had been arrested for alleged election irregularities, former Mayor William J. Fulton of Gary, Ind., shot himself to death in the bedroom of his home. He left a note to his family, containing this significant message to his son: "Bill, you have been a good boy. Take care of mother, finish school and carry on; but don't get into politics." It is that final admonition that makes one stop and think. "Don't get into politics!" The last word to his son of a man who had been in for 17 years. "Don't get into politics!"

There is a good deal of meaning in that bit of advice. It signals the result of a trend that has long been apparent, but that we seldom have brought home to us so closely; the long, steady decline of politics from the honored place it used to hold. A couple of generations ago a political career was the goal of many ambitious young Americans. It was a highly honorable career; to be a senator, a mayor, a congressman or a governor carried a great deal of prestige, marked one as a man of exceptional talent, testified to one's ability and rectitude.

The result was that with few exceptions the best brains in the country turned to politics, and public service was enriched with statesmen of a high order. There were rascals in high office, to be sure—no country was ever without them—but on the whole politics was the one profession for the energetic man who wanted to make his mark upon his times. But now? The ambitious youngster, 20 to one, will look to business, to the law, to industry. Politics is in bad repute and justly so. The easiest way to get a reputation for sophistication is to ridicule congress. We are no longer surprised to read of a congressman or mayor being caught in some law violation; nor are we surprised to find this Gary politician advising his son, "don't get into politics."

We have brought all of this on ourselves. Politics does not interest us as it used to. We devote all of our attention to other matters, and let the politicians do about as they like. We feel, broadly, just about as this Gary man evidently felt; that politics is no place for a fine, ambitious youngster. Politics won't regain its old eminence either, until the day comes when we make it our business to study questions earnestly, vote intelligently and demand 100 per cent performances from the men we elect to office.

In early Saxon marriages, the father of the bride delivered one of her sisters in the bedroom which touched her head with it as a symbol of his authority.

TWENTY Five Thousand, two hundred and sixty-five People in Appleton," announced the headline on Tuesday. Mehlbel, the slightly minded mosquito was thrown into a panic. "Twenty-five People in Appleton," she murmured, "why—th there a convention going on?"

The South Sea Islanders, we read, use red feathers as currency and the Pilons use whales' teeth. That's something like using potato chips in a poker game.

New London

Jonah:

A local contractor had the good fortune to uproot a nest of peony roots while digging the foundation for a new house. (Ed. note: Hooray—New London gets a new house!) Since there were more peony roots than he needed, he presented the surplus to women of the neighborhood who proceeded to lay them out in neat designs in their front lawns. Imagine his embarrassment when the peony roots grew up into nice rhubarb plants.

Freddie, Post-Mortem's New London correspondent was enthusiastic over the possibilities of the N. L. entries in tonight's fights. We aren't going to see them though, Freddie, they always remind us of the time we had a steady girl.

More Athletics

While people are commenting on the fact that the University of Wisconsin has won six straight ball games to take the lead in the Big Ten, it is interesting to note that the university's track team has gone undefeated for thirteen consecutive week ends.

Which reminds us of the enterprising publicity manager for a group of university stage aspirants who were staging a Shakespearean drama. Said agent was busily trying to get a person of note to call the drama obscure in order to boost the ticket sales. This theory, naturally, is not confined to college theatrical circles.

Giving Posterity a Break

The house in which Napoleon once lived (probably one of several) is being wrecked to provide room for a new structure. Undoubtedly, Mr. Mussolini will see it at once that all of the places which he has inhabited are not somewhere that's going to be safe for a long, long time.

FIRST AIR MAIL

On May 15, 1918, the first regular daily air mail service in the world was inaugurated by the United States government between New York and Washington.

Before this time there had been attempts to carry mail from point to point or across intervening bodies of water, but not on a large and regular basis.

The service was begun with a special stamp of 24 cents to a letter, but later was reduced to 16 and then again to 6 cents. The distance between the cities was negotiated in three hours and 22 minutes.

At first the Washington-New York service was maintained by the air service of the army, but as soon as its reliability was demonstrated, it was taken over by the Postoffice Department.

Although the service was discontinued in 1920 from motives of economy, similar services were established between the larger cities. On September 8 of the same year the transcontinental mail was inaugurated between New York and San Francisco.

VITAMIN A FOR TONSILS AND ADENOIDS.

In surveying the several schools of thought in regard to the best treatment of tonsils and adenoids (presumably tonsils and adenoids that are either enlarged or infected) in our last quarrel about this, I find I omitted to mention one worthy group, namely, doctors who believe in and in suitable cases give topical treatment in preference to the other methods. Topical treatment means something or other, medicinal as a rule, applied locally to the tonsils or adenoids. I know of no good doctors who employ such treatment to the exclusion of other treatment for this condition, but I know of many fine physicians who consider it quite as effective in some cases of either hypertrophic (enlarged) or infected (tonsils as is surgical interference in actual practice (not just on paper).

Now let us just briefly call the roll and see if we have all schools present:

1. Born specialists and little tin doctors who accept the cheap jobs offered by local health boards, school boards and the like, and coral principally school children for wholesale tonsil and adenoid operations whether the victims have any tonsils and adenoids to speak of or not. This evil is the ugly result of socialistic state medicine.

2. Good reputable physicians and specialists who advise removal only when hygienic effects are evident, but who from traditional conservatism and a kind of intolerance, insist that surgical tonsillectomy is the one and only remedy, and dismiss the patient as hopeless if the patient cannot or will not undergo operation.

3. Pampered sycophants who for the moment have the entree to the medical journals and medical society programs and preach and practice X-ray treatment in lieu of surgery, in certain cases. (Class 2 somehow forgets conservatism and intolerance when class 3 pleads for the alternative method.)

4. Progressive throat specialists here and there who possess the necessary equipment, the technical skill and the patience, not to mention the confidence of the patient, to obliterate or extirpate the tonsil or adenoid with diathermy.

5. Sound and experienced physicians who find topical treatment (various medicinal applications) at least as satisfactory as tonsillectomy in some cases.

6. Licensed healers and illit "health builders" or vendors of "nature" cures who call all medicine "but their own" "poison" and all surgery a blind man can't see "butchery." These denizens of the back pages of our shady magazines purport to cure all infected or enlarged tonsils and adenoids with fresh air, sunshine, proper diet and—of course there is always a catch in it, for somebody's got to pay the magazine—a simple twist of the wrist or a bit of hocus-pocus that any schoolboy can perform once the secret is divulged. Pin a dollar bill on the coupon.

Why give so much space to the class 6 method? For one thing, because there may be more in sunshine, fresh air and the right vitamin than one thinks at first. I mean vitamin A.

A deficiency of vitamin A in the diet leads to enlargement of lymphatic tissue not only in the tonsils and adenoids but elsewhere in the body, as in lymph nodes (kernels) in the neck, and the ring of the appendix. Possibly (theoretically) this lymphatic tissue enlargement is a natural response to infection. At any rate we know that a shortage of vitamin A prevents the development of the highest attainable immunity against upper respiratory infection.

The ultraviolet rays of direct sunlight greatly aid in the development of that same immunity. These rays also cause the growing plant to develop the maximum vitamin A property, whatever it is. So that exposure of naked skin to direct sunlight, or even to an ultraviolet lamp, is now recognized as helpful not only in the prevention but in the treatment of enlarged or infected tonsils and adenoids.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Raw or Rare Meat.

In one of your articles you said raw lamb, fish or beef was liable to cause tapeworm. Please tell me if raw liver is safe to eat or raw liver blood is safe to drink. I have been taking these for three weeks and it seems to help me a lot. (Mrs. M. J. B.)

Answer.—No, I said raw lamb might carry the larval form of trichina; raw beef might carry the larval form of beef tape worm; and, in some parts of the country, raw fish might contain the larval form of the broad or fish tape-worm. Better to have all flesh food thoroughly cooked. Liver or blood from carcasses raised by the federal meat inspectors would be safe to eat raw. It is debatable whether raw liver or liver blood is more effective as a remedy than the same cooked to suit the patient's taste. Sometimes a patient too ill to eat may take a liver cocktail or a liver extract or liver blood in one form or another.

Adhesions.

Kindly tell me if adhesions are dangerous, if they impair one's health and if it is advisable to be operated on? (Mrs. I. M.)

Answer.—Adhesions are the consequence of inflammation or injury. As a rule they are harmless and in many instances of beneficial character. Sometimes they may cause trouble by interfering with one or another function or organ and in that case operation may be required for relief. For example, adhesions gluing together the covering of the lung and the lining of the chest and interfering with movements of the lung; such adhesions may occur after pleurisy or a wound of the chest or lung.

The Health Food Vendor.

A somewhat vacillating follower of yours brought the enclosed booklet to my notice. The insidious ad used contained therein leaves me un- ruffled, but I believe the booklet has been widely distributed in our community and many unwary readers may be deceived. Can you give us a word about it? (Mrs. E. S.)

Answer.—Among the instructions offered in the booklet is the warning that iodized salt is dangerous, and another is the alarming news that some great German authority has discovered that cystin, present in flaxseeds, is very bad, as guinea pigs can't live on it. Whether or not prospects who read the booklet decide to buy the vendor's "health" foods, no one need be alarmed about the use of iodized salt instead of plain salt or about the use of flaxseeds instead of physic. All kinds of protein food, even some of the "health" foods offered by this particular vendor, contain more or less cystin. What of it?

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

THE Kiel Bay trip was quite a sight and, with the old sun shining brightly, the Tynmites all enjoyed it as the boat sped on its way. "We're leaving Germany behind," said Scooby. "All the folks were kind to us and I would like to go back to that land some day."

Just then they heard some melody and Clowzy said, "Oh, mercy me! Somebody on this boat is playing music very sweet. Whoever it is plays mighty well. That is a banjo. I can tell. Let's find the time must elapse and then tell him it's a treat."

They looked into a cabin near and Clowzy shouted, "It is here!" The whole bunch ran in on the man and he cried, "Howdy do! Just make yourselves at home. Here, boys, and if you don't make too much noise, I'll strum the banjo."

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Some six months ago a young man, barely 30 years old, extremely modest and unassuming, came down to Washington from New York and made his way to Tom Walsh's office on Capitol Hill.

"You sent for me, Senator?" he asked. Walsh when ushered into his presence.

No strangers were these two. Walsh had sent for John Holland, for there was more investigating to be done. The last time the two had worked together was during the Teapot Dome scandal.

Young Holland was Walsh's special investigator then, and such a good one was he that the Montana senator raised him on the floor of the senate.

Walsh wanted him this time to assist in the lobbying investigation which was just then about to get underway. With the consent of Thad Caraway and other members of the lobby committee, Holland was made the official investigator.

PROVIDES 'AMMUNITION'

"Thinking that the task would require only a few weeks, Holland agreed to take it over. But he has been at it for more than six months, and doesn't know now when he will be able to return to his regular job—chief trial attorney at prohibition headquarters in New York.

It is up to this young man as committee investigator to provide the five senators, charged with looking into the activities of lobbyists in Washington, with "ammunition."

This means that he must delve into the mountains of correspondence and records of individuals and organizations under fire for evidence of lobbying. In the office that has been assigned him on the first floor of the senate office building he goes about his task of sleuthing.

When the committee is in session, Holland will be seen at the elbows of the investigators. Frequently he will go into whispered conference with a member of the committee when a witness is on the stand. A question is then asked the witness—one suggested by Holland.

At his finger tips are sheaths of correspondence, and he must be able to provide instantly any letter or document asked for.

FAR INTO NIGHT

When the committee has concluded its day's work, usually around noon, Holland goes back to his office to dig up more evidence for the next day. At times his search carries him far into the night and through literally thousands of letters and records.

His work is of incalculable value to the lobby committee. The work of these five senators has been greatly lightened by Holland's efforts.

Is the real reason for your new suit a blonde or brunette?

"I don't need a woman to tell me how to dress."

We've heard that lots of times from men who, down deep in their hearts, were anxious to win feminine approval.

And Schmidt's have found that the hand that picks the lint off your coat and straightens your tie is the hand that rules the style world.

Why not bring your wife or sweetheart—? It isn't silly or sentimental—it's sound style sense.

NUMBER OF AUTOS REGISTERED LAST MONTH SHOWS DROP

Decrease Is Reported in Appleton and County; Also in State

Sharp decreases in the number of new automobiles registered in Appleton and Outagamie-co are shown in a report from the secretary of state for April. Decreases also are noted for the entire state, although the totals for the four months ending in April are still ahead of the totals for the same period last year.

Only 133 new cars were licensed in Appleton in April as compared with 154 in the same month last year. The total for the first four months of this year, however, is 561 compared to 516 for the same period in 1929.

In Outagamie-co in April there were 233 new cars registered as against 293 in the same month in 1929. For the first four months, however, the county has a total of 654 new cars against 585 in the like period last year.

A drop from 15,937 in April, 1929, to 11,323 for April, 1930, is shown in the report for the state. However, figures for the first four months for the state show 32,053 new registrations, less than 100 ahead of 1929 when there were 31,982 in the same period.

Following is a list of cities of about the same size as Appleton with the first figure showing the registrations for April and the second the registrations in the first four months, this year: Appleton, 133,

SEE DROP IN STATE'S PRODUCTION OF GRAIN

Madison—(AP)—A smaller acreage of rye and unhealthy condition of winter wheat will cause a drop in the Wisconsin production of both grains this year, the Wisconsin and U. S. Departments of Agriculture announced here today.

Based upon the May condition as reported by Wisconsin crop reporters, winter wheat production this year is estimated at 520,000 bushels as compared with 536,000 bushels last year. Winter wheat acreage is estimated at 40,000 acres as compared with 39,000 last year. The acreage of rye in Wisconsin this year is put at 176,000. Last year it was 185,000.

The agriculture departments announced that about 12 per cent of the hay crop of 1929, or about 925,000 tons, was still on farms at the beginning of April. This carry over is more than 400,000 tons above last year and is attributed to the unusual production of clover in 1929. Last year Wisconsin led all states in tame hay production.

Pasture and tame hay conditions are poorer this year than last, the departments said. Wisconsin pasture condition is reported as 79 per cent of normal as compared with 94 per cent a year ago. Hay meadows are reported as 83 per cent of normal as compared with 94 per cent last year.

APPLETON GIRL IN DANCING SOCIETY

Miss Ora Zuehlke Member of Orchestris at University of Wisconsin

Madison — Miss Ora Zuehlke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zuehlke, 832 E. College-ave, Appleton, is a member of Orchestris, senior women's honorary dancing society which will present a dance drama as a feature of the entertainment for Mother's Weekend at the University of Wisconsin, May 23-24-25.

The program for Mother's weekend will start formally at 8:15 p. m., Friday, May 23, with the impressive Senior Swing-out. The senior women in cap and gown march slowly up Lincoln terrace followed by the white-clad underclassmen women who carry the traditional daisy chain. Honorary awards are presented at this time and a brief farewell address is made.

Dance drama which is an elaborate program of interpretive dances accompanied by music furnished by the university orchestra will be presented both Friday and Saturday evenings in Bascom theater in order that the large audience may be accommodated.

Probably the most elaborate spectacle planned for the Mother's entertainment is the annual Venetian night, May 24. The piers along the shores of Lake Mendota are lavishly decorated with vari-colored Japanese lanterns. # Appleton Has Own Dry Law, City Records Show

With the periodical stir caused by the advent of federal dry agents, Appleton doesn't get a chance to forget the Volstead act, but a great many people have forgotten, or are even unaware of the fact, that this city has its own dry law.

In section 11.23 of the city ordinances the question of intoxicating liquors is comprehensively covered from the sale of it to drunkenness.

The first part of the law rules that it is unlawful to manufacture, sell or distribute any intoxicating liquors as defined by the National Prohibition act, within the limits of the city of Appleton, except where specific exceptions and exemptions are made in the Volstead act.

The chief of police or any police officer of the city may inspect the premises of any person having a license for the sale of non-intoxicating liquors within the city at any reasonable time without a warrant.

The penalty prescribed for the violation of this law, first offense, is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, in addition to the costs of the action, and in default of payment of either the fine or the costs the guilty person shall be confined to the county jail for not less than one month nor more than six months. A second offense brings a fine of not less than $300 nor more than $5,000, or a jail confinement of not less than one month nor more than six months.

In respect to drunkenness the law provides that any person found in any public place in such a state of intoxication as to disturb others, or unable by reason of his condition to care for his own safety or the safety of others, shall upon conviction be

SMITH, BRANDT GET NEW HOSPITAL JOB

New Two Story Structure to Be Erected at Cost of $75,000

Smith and Brandt, local architects, have been awarded the contract for preparing plans and specifications for the new Shawano municipal hospital, according to word received here Wednesday morning. The plans for the new structure, to be erected at an approximate cost of $75,000, will be ready within the next three weeks, and it is expected construction work will get underway shortly afterwards.

The hospital will be two stories high and is to be constructed of face brick. The general offices and waiting rooms will be on the main floor. The building will contain two wards, sterilizing and operating rooms, metabolism rooms, first aid receiving wards, an elaborate kitchen, and other special features.

Will never give you any more trouble if you take a tablespoonful of Tanlac before each meal and bedtime. You'll be amazed at the way Tanlac ends sourness and distress by preventing formation of gases and acids. It must help or you get your money back.

The Story of Sue
by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

HARRY realized that you did not care for him in the way he wanted you to. "Corrinne continued her confession. "He blamed himself for hurrying you. He seemed to know that you wouldn't ever love him... and I did. But neither of us ever would have said a word if you hadn't broken with him, because we couldn't run the chance that maybe you might."

Sue shook her head firmly and the dark looks tumbled over her eyes. "I much prefer Harry for a brother-in-law."

This girl didn't seem like Corrinne. Corrinne, who had gone her flippant way, playing with the high school boys, laughing at them and liking them; taking no one seriously; out for a good time.

She had supposed that some day Corrinne would nonchalantly walk off with some tall, stalwart, handsome young man who was the desire of every girl in town and who wouldn't have two cents in his pocket. Now, instead, she had chosen round, heavy Harry Becker who had millions.

"Then last night... when you said that you were breaking the engagement... I... Oh Sue, forgive me, but I couldn't help it. I sent him a wire and asked him to come right away and he did and he met me and that's where we were tonight."

"Did you tell him then, that I'm breaking our engagement?" Sue asked slowly.

"Yes, I didn't think you would care. I gave back the ring, too. You are sure that you don't want him?" Anxiously crept into her face.

Sue smiled a one-sided smile. "Very sure."

Corrinne was so very young in some ways she was reflecting.

"Harry started out by being afraid that his cousin Clifford was too experienced for me," Sue said, giggling a little. "But I guess he forgot about Clifford before he was through. He's going to have seven fits in the morning when he sees me, for I walked out on him and he was chairman of the prom committee. I don't care."

"When are you going to be married?" Sue asked. After all, it was better just to play along with Corrinne, rather than to start remonstrating.

"Oh, not until June, when school's out. Then we'll go to Europe and."

Harry's voice came drifting back

About 100 people attended the Mother and Daughter banquet Wednesday night in the sub auditorium of St. John Evangelical church, sponsored by the Women's Union of the church. Table decorations were in spring flowers. A program was presented under the direction of the Rev. W. R. Wetzeler. It included a piano solo by Miss Helen Filz, a vocal selection by Miss Sarah Ellen Jones, a toast to mothers by Miss Hildegarde Wetzeler, and the response by Mrs. Charles Freiburg. A poignant, "The Mothers of America," was a feature of the program. The banquet was served by the Brotherhood of the church.

to Sue as it had sounded that day they had strolled through the woods around the lodge, and planned the far places which they would visit together. It made her catch her breath quickly. She had never wanted Harry... had scarcely listened while he made his plans. But she sensed that something lovely, though unwanted, was going from her.

"Harry told Jack on the way here," Corrinne said suddenly.

PRINCE OF WALES TO SHARE "DIGS" WITH ILL BROTHER

Prince George and "Kid" Brother Will Live Together in England

Sunningdale, England.—(P)—Prince George and the Prince of Wales will be closer pals than ever when the latter returns from hunting in Africa.

The elder Prince has always had a very deep affection for his "kid brother" and now that Prince George is about to retire from the Foreign Office, which he entered less than a year ago after leaving the navy, because of his ill health, the Prince of Wales has made arrangements for him to share his "digs" here at Fort Belvedere.

Prince George has recovered from the digestive complaint from which he has been suffering for many months but his physicians have prescribed country life for him. The two royal brothers are going to live together here. A special suite of rooms has been reserved for Prince George on the first floor.

Prince George is considered by many to be the best looking of the king's four sons. He has deep-set eyes, is fairly tall and incredibly slender.

He is a graceful dancer and is very popular in his own and the Prince's set. He is the only one of the King's sons who is really fond of music and he plays a little.

He is also the best read of the royal princes and is a collector of first editions.

His notification expressed the hope there would be no objection. A recent order by the government officers forbade congress representatives from entering the area for investigation purposes.

Then sit down and write a letter or postcard to the contest editor and tell him how you are earning your money for the trip to Washington. If the idea is original, clever and practical then you will receive

RADIO PATENT POOL IS BASIS FOR SUIT FILED BY UNCLE SAM

Department of Justice
Strikes at Radio Corporation of America

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington — The very heart of the radio industry today—the patent pool of the Radio Corporation of America, through which virtually 90 per cent of all receiving sets are manufactured—is the basis of the suit against this company and its radio patent partners brought by the department of justice.

Striking at the root of the R. C. A. organization, the department seeks to test in the courts the legality of the patent combine of R. C. A., General Electric, Westinghouse, and American Telephone and Telegraph company. Ten years ago these companies, along with the United Fruit company, pooled their patents to create a radio communications company, because, individually, it was claimed, they did not have sufficient patents to enter the field. But since then it has expanded into every branch of radio and into related entertainment lines, so that today it is the greatest radio entity in the world.

All this development centered around the original pooling of patents and cross-licensing agreements between these companies.

It is to determine whether these arrangements violate the Sherman anti-monopoly law that the department has filed its suit. In its petition filed in the district court at Wilmington, Del., the state in which R. C. A. was incorporated, the department alleges that the patent agreements between these companies have been steadily increased in number and enlarged in scope "until the de-

PAYS $1 FINE FOR JUMPING RED LIGHTS

Herlup Bank, 122 N. Union-st., was fined $1 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Wednesday afternoon when he pleaded guilty of failing to observe signal lights at the corner of College-ave. and Oneida-st. He was arrested Tuesday by Officer George Behrendt.

ALLEGED JOINT CONTROL

Moreover, the department states the companies, by cross-licensing their patents, exercise joint control over the radio industry, and competition among them has ceased. "No outsider," it states, "can obtain a license except on terms jointly prescribed by the chief defendants."

The suit is the direct outgrowth of a demand by the senate interstate commerce committee that the department inquire into the R. C. A. organization. Actually, however, it results from much agitation in congress by independent radio manufacturers who have called the organization a "radio trust." The R. C. A. now licenses to about 35 receiving set manufacturers and as many accessory manufacturers the use of its patents on a 7 1/2 per cent royalty basis.

The R. C. A. in previous tests of its patent pool, has argued that without the pooling and cross-licensing, the radio industry never would have developed to its present important position among world industries. Furthermore, it contends that a patent is a legalized monopoly, and, by the same token, grouped patents constitute a legal monopoly.

But it is expected that the suit will go beyond the present patent holdings of the R. C. A. It will invade the legality of the cross-licensing contracts, which provide that all future radio patents developed by the companies affiliated with the R. C. A. shall be thrown into the pool.

Cleanliness Will Cure Vincent's Mouth Disease

Madison—Vincent's mouth disease which is gaining almost as much prominence during the last few months as following the World War, may be cured by persistent cleanliness, according to a bulletin issued by The State Medical Society today. While the disease is contagious, it is not on the reportable list to the State Board of Health but the many reports received indicate a prevalence of the disease in several sections.

"To prevent the likelihood of infection, everyone should keep his mouth in a clean, healthy condition," declares the bulletin. The disease was first noticed about 1897, having been named Vincent's infection or Vincent's Angina, the individual who succeeded in isolating the cause. It came prominently to the front among the soldiers in France, but, owing to the cramped living conditions in which the troops lived, it continued to spread. Since the war it has seemed to have spread slowly through the United States, or perhaps has been more promptly recognized.

"The milder or more common form is slower in its progress and remains on the surface, not affecting the membrane deeply," declares the Medical Society's bulletin. "Undoubtedly the true form is more often found in unclean mouths, where decayed teeth are present, around spaces where faulty fillings overhanging gum margins are a source of irritation as well as uncleanness, or where the soft tissues of the mouth have already received injury from diseases such as pyorrhea, syphilis, or other diseases. It is more common in winter, probably because of contact in schools, and theaters, where large audiences are crowded in badly ventilated halls, constitutional factors, especially faulty food and vitamin deficiencies, diabetes, or other constitutional defects are contributory causes.

"The infection is carried and spread from an infected individual to a well one by direct contact, eating utensils not properly cleaned, face towels, drinking cups, personal articles, kissing and living in crowded buildings are some of the causes of the spread.

Although the outlook in Vincent's infection is favorable and the condition usually responds quickly to competent treatment, neglect may result seriously."

THYROXIN FOUND AS 'STOP-WATCH' TO TIME GROWTH

Clew to Another Method of Nature Believed to Be Discovered

Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y.—(AP)—A clue to another of the methods whereby nature times growth has been discovered at Carnegie Institution.

It was found at the institution's Station for Experimental Evolution here by Dr. Oscar Riddle.

It is a stop-watch effect which came to light in a hitherto unreported peculiarity of thyroxin, which is the secretion of the thyroid gland. Apparently thyroxin fixes, or helps to fix, the length of time it takes an egg to hatch.

As thyroxin is one of the important secretions in healthy human bodies, it may have properties equally essential to normal birth of children.

"We have the first indication," Dr. Riddle says, "that thyroxin goes into the egg yolk, and affects the rate of development of the pre-natal animal. We have yet no positive proof of this."

"The egg of a fowl incubates in 21 days because an adequate amount of thyroxin goes in to develop it in that time. With the normal amount reduced we find that the eggs of pigeons, which usually incubate in 17 days, require a day or two longer. These retarded eggs come from mothers known to be producing insufficient thyroxin in their own bodies."

"In this finding we are able to see a bit of the machinery of development. It also warns us that what is usual is the result only if no change is made in essential environmental conditions. So by varying one little thing, when this happens to be an essential, we can change the result upon some characteristic."

PLANTS IN BEDROOM DECLARED HARMLESS

Washington —(AP)—Plants in a sleeping room generally are harmless to the occupant, in the opinion of Dr. A. F. Woods, director of scientific work in the department of agriculture.

Completing an investigation of the chemical action of plants in the air of an ordinary room, Dr. Woods said he found the plants of an ordinary greenhouse would not contribute enough carbon dioxide to injuriously taint the air.

Many hospitals, he points out, remove flowers and plants at night from patients' rooms.

The only occasion for taking plants and flowers from sleeping rooms, he says, is when they are poisonous, or occupants of the room are susceptible to hay fever.

What Scientists Are Learning

Plants Grow At Breakneck Speed With Radio's Help

Zehlendorf, Germany — (AP)—Speeding up growth of plants and improving taste and texture of table vegetables is the latest accomplishment claimed for radio.

Growth has been expedited 200 per cent by treating seeds with short radio waves of 1 millimeter before planting, according to Dr. Fritz Hildebrand, German biologist and physicist.

It was found, he says, that the seeds of plants bearing fruit above the ground, such as tomatoes, required shorter wave lengths to hasten their growth than the seeds of plants with fruit within the soil, as radishes.

Tomatoes, cabbage, radishes, kohlrabi, and melons, the seeds of which had been subjected to this process, were found to grow about three times as quickly as ordinarily.

To make sure of the success of these experiments, Dr. Hildebrand told the Associated Press, the treated seeds were placed in the poorest kind of soil unimproved by fertilizers of any kind.

The flavor of the vegetables is also improved by this treatment. They are sweeter and their watery ingredients diminished, he said.

These results are attained by subjecting the seeds before planting to short waves of high frequency—generated according to a special theory of Dr. Hildebrand for which he has applied for a patent—which are possessed of a great energy and capable of materially raising the vitality of all living cells.

Dr. Hildebrand also says he has succeeded by the same process in hatching out eggs in 16 days instead of the normal 21 days and he declares the same procedure can be applied to advantage in medicine, as, for instance, for the improvement of hardening of the arteries and perhaps cancer.

Treating seeds with radio short waves before planting speeds up growth 200 per cent as shown by contrasted sunflower plants (upper right) is claim of Dr. Fritz Hildebrand, German scientist (center).

USES SURGERY TO TREAT PATIENTS WITH T. B.

Pittsburgh — (AP)—Surgery is used here with some success in the treatment of serious cases of tuberculosis, according to Dr. Howard Marcy, medical director of the Tuberculosis Hospital.

The basis of the operations is to permit the diseased lung to heal by giving it a rest, it having been found that the motion of a lung in normal operation irritates the ulcers produced in it by disease. In some cases the diseased organ is rendered permanently inoperative, but in all instances, the operations are not attempted unless the remaining lung is thought capable of sustaining the whole burden of breathing.

Critical cases, Dr. Marcy continued, are treated by removal of sections of 11 ribs on the side of the diseased lung, resulting in the permanent destruction of the lung, but without any deformity resulting to the patient, since the operation is performed beneath the muscles, which remain intact.

"We have had a fair degree of success," Dr. Marcy said, "having salvaged about 40 per cent of the cases operated on."

PHILISTINES BROUGHT SAFETY PIN TO ISRAEL

Baltimore —(AP)—The Philistines are credited by archeological discoveries with at least one improvement in Israel. They introduced the safety-pin into Palestine.

This finding is reported to the American Philosophical Society by Dr. William F. Albright of Johns Hopkins. The safety-pin, known generally in archeology as the "fibula," was once one of man's great improvements that swept the then known world.

Dr. Albright says the Philistines probably obtained the pin idea from the Aegeans.

NEW EVENING COAT IS SASSY, PRETTY

Ending With Flare Between Hip and Knee, It Has Cut Sleeves

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1930, by Coss Press
New York—(CPA)—Blanche Le-Bouvier of Paris is responsible for one of the sassiest and prettiest of the season's evening cloaks. It ends with a flare midway between hip and knee, and with a cut-sleeve hang-down at the elbow. Of black faille, it stands out stiffly around the hem, and is shaped at the waistline. The end of the slit sleeve, as well as the hem and neck, are edged with ermine.

Silk alpaca makes up a London street suit that revives the good, old-fashioned pipings in a contrasting color. The suit is leaf green, spotted with white dots, and it piped with white wherever possible. As, for instance, down the coat seams, round the coat cuffs, round the arm-holes, and down the flat panels of the skirt. A white pique vest is added also.

Despite the ditty to the effect that daisies won't tell, the daisies upon some of the new chiffon frocks are very telling, indeed. They are big, fat daisies and about three of them dropped on the bodice or on one hip are all the decoration any frock needs. If you happen to be plump, they tell this, too.

Just About Everyone Who Reads At All—Reads a Newspaper Every Day!

In Appleton and surrounding territory the Post-Crescent is admittedly predominant. Its ability to obtain results for an advertiser, has been proven time and again. There never has been a time when this medium could be used to better advantage.

OF LASTING BENEFIT

And the cumulative effect of persistent advertising messages, delivered in the midst of the other important news of the day, is lasting public good-will and understanding.

What an amazing eyeful of information that is when you get what it means. It means there is one kind of reading all the people have in common and that is newspaper reading.

A DAILY CONTACT

It means that whatever else they may do, the people as a whole are in daily contact with newspaper advertisers.

It means that wherever else you advertise, you are reaching people who have already read the newspapers today and will read them again tomorrow.

It means that the only daily reading done by millions of the people is confined to newspapers.

So, if everybody you want to reach with advertising—from congressmen to chorus girls, from preachers to proof readers, from plutocrats to pumpkin tamers—if all classes, kinds and conditions have the newspaper-reading habit, the newspaper must be a good advertising medium.

SPEED AND ACTION

Speed and action mark a newspaper's life and functions. The news deals with instant matters—things that are happening today—things that are forecast for tomorrow. In every corner of the world, reporters are hot on the heels of events—typewriters whirl—wires sing with the news. Airplanes, trains, motor cars, ships, all forces of travel and communication bear the news to the great distribution points which are the newspaper offices.

WORTH

You can tell a good purchase from a bad one by asking, "What did it cost; what is it worth?" When you say newspaper advertising costs less than any other kind you do not tell the whole story. It is only when you consider, also, what you get for your money that the full value of newspaper space is demonstrated.

In Appleton and Vicinity the Post-Crescent presents an invaluable and essential medium to assure overwhelming coverage.

ROBERTS, LATEST CHOICE FOR HIGH COURT, SPORTSMAN

He Rose to Fame as U. S. Prosecutor in Recent Oil Scandals

Washington—A "Philadelphia lawyer" in the figurative sense, as well as the literal, is Owen J. Roberts, nominated by President Hoover to fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench caused by the death of Justice Edward T. Sanford and marked move recently by the Senate rejection of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina.

Roberts is not only an attorney with offices in Philadelphia. He is one of those shrewd geniuses with a knack for unknottling the most complicated of legal problems who have given rise to the familiar expression "Only a Philadelphia lawyer could solve that."

Much of his work has been quietly for other attorneys who have brought to him matters that were too difficult for them to handle and sought his guidance.

When Roberts rose to national fame almost overnight after President Coolidge appointed him as a government prosecutor in the Teapot Dome oil scandal cases several years ago he made good with a bang.

"Isn't that Owen Roberts, one of the government's counsel," a friend asked Harry Sinclair one day, indicating a tall, broad-shouldered man with a briar pipe between his teeth. "One of them!" replied the oil man. "Hell, that's all of them!"

Sinclair was in position to know. Roberts had prosecuted him. Roberts is a big man, physically as well as in ability. He towers six feet. He has iron gray hair, smooth face and a square, determined jaw. His manner is quick and alert and his speech always to the point.

He likes to stalk big game, not only in the courts of law, but in the forests as well. His vacations are spent in the Maine woods, hunting moose and bear, but it is the thrill of the chase rather than the zest of the kill in which he finds his greatest pleasure.

Guides tell the story of how Roberts, after a tiresome all-day tramp over rough ground, finally got within rifle range of a big moose. But Roberts didn't shoot; he merely inspected the animal with interest and then turned around and started home.

Friends say that he hunts for exercise, not to slay.

Roberts has some interesting qualities, not the least of which is a reputation for integrity. When he was named to conduct the oil scandal prosecution he naturally came into the public eye and his record was placed under the microscope by the opposition. The result was in his favor.

The story is told that when young Roberts' preliminary education was completed his father suggested that he choose law for his career.

"But can I be a lawyer and be honest?" the youngster demurred. "I want to teach school."

The matter was put up to Dr. William Kershaw, headmaster of Germantown Academy, where he had attended.

"My boy, you can be honest at anything," replied Dr. Kershaw. And so the die was cast for law.

Two incidents show the human side and deep sincerity of Roberts, long identified with wealthy clients.

A railroad worker was crippled in a wreck and charged to engage Roberts as his lawyer in a damage suit. Roberts won for him a judgment of $55,000 from the railroad.

In contrast was the case of a millionaire Philadelphia who, while drunk, ran down and killed three women with his auto.

"What shall I do?" the millionaire asked Roberts, seeking out the man who in his opinion was the best attorney available.

"Surrender yourself and plead guilty," Roberts advised.

The millionaire did. He got a prison term of several years and served it.

"Owen was never fond of athletics in school, as he preferred study," his father once said.

Three incidents I remember particularly were in which Owen tried to become a painter, when he learned to swim, when he learned to play the cornet. His first two efforts were not so successful as the third, for after diligent practice with the cornet he was chosen cornet soloist at the Baptist church. Later he joined the Episcopal church.

"Owen had only one fault as a boy. He was inclined to be a little too eager to quarrel when he thought his rights were transgressed. He learned later to control his temper."

Roberts' personality inspires confidence. After only 15 minutes of interview, President Coolidge decided to appoint Roberts as a government prosecutor in the oil lease scandals along with Ex-Senator Atlee Pomeroy of Ohio. The two served together.

He spends long hours at his office and then he likes to come home and turn on the radio. He doesn't care for golf. He belongs to the best of Philadelphia clubs, is a quiet and unassuming man and has never been a candidate for public office.

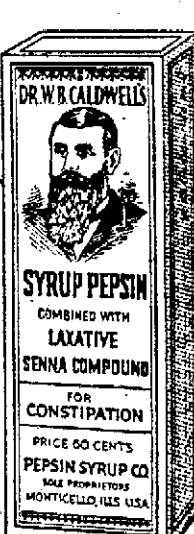

As a conversationalist he is witty and, like most lawyers, he is able to tell a good story as it should be told. He has a deep rumbling voice—in short, he talks like a Philadelphian.

Doctor's PRESCRIPTION when system is sluggish; costs nothing to try

When your bowels need help, the mildest thing that will do the work is always the sensible choice. Take a laxative that a family doctor has used for all sorts of cases of chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is so pleasant to the taste, so gentle in its action, it is given children of tender age and yet it is just as thorough and effective as stronger preparations. Pure senna, and harmless laxative herbs; ingredients that start a gentle muscular action. Avoid a coated tongue, laden breath, bilious headaches, etc. Every drug store has Dr. Caldwell's famous prescription in big bottles. Or just write Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Monticello, Ill., for a free trial bottle.

CORRECT PLAN FIRST STEP IN HEATING

Only Specialists Authorized to Install the Steel-ripped and Gas-tight Lennox Torrid Zone Furnace

Proper planning and installation is absolutely necessary for furnace to perform satisfactorily. Every home presents a different problem. Every door and window means lost heat. The construction of your house, its location and exposure, must also be considered.

Accurate formulas governing pipe sizes and furnace capacities have been developed through years of experimental work at the University of Illinois, resulting in what is known as the Standard Code of the National Warm Air Heating Association. Torrid Zone dealers figure and install according to these formulas and are granted the franchise solely on their ability to follow the scientific principles of the standard code.

On proper installation the Lennox Furnace Company guarantees to replace any part of the Torrid Zone, except grates or liners, if it wears out within ten years from date of purchase. The average life, however, based on actual service records, is 21 years.

Made by the Lennox Furnace Company, Syracuse, N. Y.—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

Representatives of the Hutter company have agreed that help will be engaged locally as far as possible, and that local business houses dealing in construction materials will have the opportunity to bid for furnishing such items as can be obtained locally. Should the match prove of sufficient interest the event will become an annual affair. The remaining athletic event of the week will be the annual cross-country track and field meet at Shawano Saturday afternoon, at which about 16 students will compete with other schools of the conference.

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The second round of the indoor baseball league was played Wednesday evening. Bordens defeated Christy 5-1. Christy had one bad inning when they allowed three runs to get across the plate. In the second game the Legionaires were badly trampled upon by the Edison team for a 11-2 count. The Legionaires infield went to pieces at times. In the third game of the evening the Hamilton Plywood game ended in a talk test and will be replayed Monday evening. With the Hamilton leading 7 to 4 the Plywoods got men on first and second on a disputed play and Red Barlow, the next man up, socked out a home run to tie the score. The arguments began all over again and the fifth inning necessary to complete the game was never reached because of darkness. This puts Bordens at the top of the league with a perfect average, which is the first time the team, playing soft ball, has attained this record.

DR. GLENN FRANK GIVES ADDRESS AT WAUPACA MEETING

Says Students Go to College to Study and Not to Acquire Polish

Waupaca—Dr. Glenn Frank president of the University of Wisconsin, who was a guest of the Waupaca Lions club at its luncheon Tuesday, on the invitation of Colonel John Turner, commander of the Wisconsin Veterans Home and member of the club, talked at the Waupaca high school in the afternoon on the responsibilities to consider on entering an institution of higher learning.

He told how upon entering the university, a student signs a contract in triplicate assuming obligations to parents, obligations to the state which maintains that vast plant of learning, and obligations to the university itself. Dr. Frank talked to a large audience of young folks, Lions and other people.

He pointed out the relation between scholastic merit and achievements in the world; discarding the theory that the college ladder becomes a business genius; thus turning the laugh on his professors and citing Lindbergh as a popular example of a man who wastes time in college, but who achieved success in the world.

He asserted, however, that Lindbergh is no fit example for such assumption that while he did not always center his resources on the problems in school, he did give his best ability to the problem he was

FRONTIER REPORTS DISTURB BRITISH

Communists Reported Active Fostering Revolt in Northwest India

Bombay, India.—(P)—The British government took extreme precautions today to prevent the projected raid of Indian nationalists, under Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, on the salt deposits at Dharsana.

Orders were issued prohibiting assembly of more than four persons in the vicinity of the salt deposits, which, though privately owned are state-operated. The entire police force of Jalapur was said to have been removed to the threatened point.

One year's simple imprisonment was assessed Mrs. Lakshmi Prasad, widely known social worker of Madras, the first woman to be taken into custody by the government since the civil disobedience campaign began. Her offense was leading a demonstration against the salt laws at Vedaranyam.

There were renewed disturbing reports today from the northwest frontier where Communists were said to be subsidizing the All-India National congress agitation and to be instigating revolt among the tribesmen, some of whom are reported wearing the hammer and sickle badge of the Soviets.

One of the foremost Mohammedan leaders on the frontier, Nawab Sir Dost Mohamed Khan, was said to have issued an appeal to Muslims to cut their connection with the Communists, claiming that the Moslem policy was suicidal and that they were allowing themselves to be led blindly by Hindu members of the All-India national congress whose salaries have been paid by Communists.

Defection of the clan of Tochi Vazirs, who hitherto always remained loyal to the British rule, and who cordially aided the British in the Mahsud rebellion is causing much worry here. They have risen in arms against the British, allegedly at the instigation of all-India National congress agents in the pay of Communists.

PROPOSE FEDERATION OF LIVESTOCK SHIPPERS

Madison.—(P)—A state federation of livestock shippers association to act as a contact agency between local associations was recommended by a committee of eight which met here this week. R. A. Peterson, chief of the division of cooperative marketing, announced today.

The committee was appointed by the state-wide livestock conference. It has for its chief purpose the establishment of substantial improvements in the marketing of livestock in Wisconsin.

"Strengthening of the cooperative shipping associations received particular attention on the part of the committee," Mr. Peterson said. "The following means were recommended as conducive to more effective organization of the local shipping associations: incorporation under the state cooperative law, adoption of a membership agreement, regular audits of accounts, installation of a uniform system of accounting, use of flat rate on a hundred weight basis, a definite grading system and competent management."

"To meet the problem presented by the development of trucking the committee recommended that trucking of livestock should be in the control of the associations and that the latter should buy or lease trucks or contract to furnish trucking service whenever necessary."

To bring about a permanent improvement in live stock marketing the committee agreed that it is absolutely necessary that all live stock consigned to public stockyards should be sold through the cooperative agencies affiliated with the national live stock marketing associations as set up by the national farm board.

LORD DERBY OFFERS ANCESTRAL HOME IN ENGLAND FOR SALE

Liverpool, England.—(P)—An announcement that Knowlsey Hall and estate, the ancestral home of the earls of Derby through five centuries, has been placed in the market for sale, has created astonishment and some sadness in the district.

The estate comprises 2,500 acres of wooded land, pastures and lakes. It has been offered to a Liverpool corporation and rough figures said to run into the millions of pounds have been drawn up as a basis for discussion.

The hall has been considered as possibly suitable as a sanatorium. Heavy taxation and threatened burdens of taxation are said to have induced Lord Derby to part with his principal seat.

avoid a discussion of politics but no matter what they say, the political world interprets their utterances as a part of a well designed plot to capture votes either for themselves or the members of their party who are up for election.

Another argument made in favor of a long trip by a president after he has been in office a year or more is that "the people want to see him." A retiring personality is too much of a mystery for the average voter and while some presidents have profited by such mystery, the desire for a personality who will come out and meet folks is considered by the politicians as far more advantageous in the long run.

Entirely apart from the political discussion of the president's trip, there is enthusiastic comment from western members of congress because of the belief that the attention of the whole country will be focused on the west. Mr. Coolidge achieved something of this and won the gratitude of the middle west, particularly the Dakotas, but no president has called attention as Mr. Hoover's proposed journey will do to the vast possibilities of recreation afforded by the national parks.

Mr. Hoover as an engineer has always been interested in the possibilities of western land and rivers, and undoubtedly such speeches as he will make will be devoted to an exposition of what he conceives to be the economic future of the west, as well as its recreational advantages for the whole nation.

PROPOSE FEDERATION OF LIVESTOCK SHIPPERS

Madison.—(P)—A state federation of livestock shippers association to act as a contact agency between local associations was recommended by a committee of eight which met here this week. R. A. Peterson, chief of the division of cooperative marketing, announced today.

The committee was appointed by the state-wide livestock conference. It has for its chief purpose the establishment of substantial improvements in the marketing of livestock in Wisconsin.

"Strengthening of the cooperative shipping associations received particular attention on the part of the committee," Mr. Peterson said. "The following means were recommended as conducive to more effective organization of the local shipping associations: incorporation under the state cooperative law, adoption of a membership agreement, regular audits of accounts, installation of a uniform system of accounting, use of flat rate on a hundred weight basis, a definite grading system and competent management."

"To meet the problem presented by the development of trucking the committee recommended that trucking of livestock should be in the control of the associations and that the latter should buy or lease trucks or contract to furnish trucking service whenever necessary."

To bring about a permanent improvement in live stock marketing the committee agreed that it is absolutely necessary that all live stock consigned to public stockyards should be sold through the cooperative agencies affiliated with the national live stock marketing associations as set up by the national farm board.

ZUEHLKE PREPARES TO CALL MEETING OF COUNTY G. O. P.

Republicans Meet Before June 5 to Elect Delegates

Plans are being made by W. H. Zuehlke, chairman of the Outagamie County Republican organization, for a meeting to be held here before June 5 at which 24 regular and 26 alternate delegates will be named to attend the state G. O. P. convention at Oshkosh on June 10 and 11. Mr. Zuehlke said the date of the county meeting would be made public in the near future.

The call for the state conference in Oshkosh with instruction for the election of county delegates to the meeting was received this week by Mr. Zuehlke. They were invited by William L. Pieplow, secretary of the State Republican committee, Milwaukee.

"All Wisconsin voters, who declare themselves in harmony and accord with the National Republican administration and platform are invited to attend and participate in the county meetings," the announcement says.

Each county is entitled to representation at the state conference on the basis of one delegate absolute, and one delegate for each 500 votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican candidate for president of the United States at the last preceding general election.

On this basis, Outagamie county is entitled to 26 delegates. Calumetco 6, Doorco 5, Forestco 5, Kewanee to 4, Manitowishco 16, Matunette to 14, Oconto 7, Shawano 11, and Waupaca to 13 delegates.

Hoover Looks Same After First Year In White House

By Rodney Dutcher

Washington—Your correspondent has just taken a good close squint at President Hoover to confirm common belief that he has been looking much poorer and older after more than a year in office, what with all his troubles. Report: Not especially apparent, although his hair has grown quite silver, an obvious change.

The executive offices, remodeled since the White House fire, are much handsomer. The most striking improvement is in the lighting fixtures, although there's a handsome new set of black leather furniture. The dozen wall lights in Hoover's private office now rest in large, upturned domes and are supported by long, scabbard-like pieces of highly polished nickel, matching the Hoover hair. The shining chandelier in the center is equally modernistic, with a flat frosted circular surface a yard in diameter through which the light filters.

Trimings and suspensions are in nickel except for a large golden eagle decorating the suspension about a foot above the chandelier itself. Beneath the frosted crystal

Each county will elect the same number of alternates as delegates. The purpose of the meeting in Oshkosh is for the purpose of:

Promulgating and adopting a political platform.

Recommending and endorsing candidates for the officers of governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, and state treasurer.

Electing officers of the State Republican committee, viz: chairman, vice chairman, vice chairwoman, secretary and treasurer.

Electing an executive committee—a man and woman from each congressional district.

Transacting such other business as may properly come before the conference.

call about three inches in diameter. The new cabinet room lighting is even more modern. Two ceiling light clusters are set against mirrors reflecting down on the cabinet table and fringed with crystal tassels. Wall lights are set behind frosted circular panes inset into gilded frames featuring other golden eagles.

Well, somebody reads this stuff, anyway. And it turns out to be none other than the Hon. Cole L. Blaise, senator from South Carolina, a fact which your correspondent acknowledges with pleased blushes. The mails brought this:

"Dear sir: I notice in the Columbia (S. C.) Record, of Tuesday, April 15th, an article on the front page, speaking of Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina: 'He was the one Democratic senator who refused to vote for an increased duty on anything.'"

"Will you please point out to me where I voted for any tariff on any article, either high or low? I will thank you for this information."

"I shall withhold my reply in the Senate to this article in the Columbia Record for a reasonable time, awaiting your reply. Very respectfully, Cole L. Blaise."

Subsequent mails carried this reply:

"Dear Senator Blaise: The only information I have concerning your votes for tariff increases is to be found on Page 4927 of the Congressional Record for Feb. 18 and on Page 4975 of the Congressional Record for Feb. 19. It appears that you voted for the Connally amendment to raise the duty on hides and for the Hayden amendment to raise the duty on dates in packages. Trusting that this is the information desired. Cordially yours, . . ."

Anyway, Senator Blaise came within two votes of matching the record of Senator Smith.

Wright, Adolfo Luque Put Robins In Third Place

CARDINALS BEAT GIANTS; CHICAGO BRUINS ARE IDLE

Cold Weather and Rain Cancels All Games in A. L. and Association

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

AMONG the trades which made a good many baseball fans think that the Brooklyn Robins were getting the worst of the bargain were those which brought Glenn Wright and Adolfo Luque to Brooklyn. Wright came in exchange for a good pitcher, Jess Petty, and was useless last year because of a bad arm. Luque, a veteran of 14 years with the Cincinnati arrived in exchange for some much younger baseball material.

These two went a long way toward justifying Wilbert Robinson's confidence in them yesterday as they formed an alliance which put the Robins in third place in the National league. Between them they defeated the Cincinnati Reds 7 to 4. Luque pitched his first complete game of the year and won his second victory in four contests. He has yet to be defeated. "Old Dolf" gave the Reds nine hits. In the third inning, Wright tied the score with a home run with one on base. And in the course of the rest of the game he added two triples and a single and scored one more run.

With the aid of a lot of rain and cold weather, the Brooklyn victory straightened out the National league standing a trifle. All but two of the games in National league and all in American league were postponed. As Brooklyn went into this place, Cincinnati dropped into a tie for fifth while St. Louis Cardinals, victorious for the eighth successive time, came up to take fourth.

The Cardinals moved into the first division by beating the league New York Giants yesterday by a 7 to 3 count as Al Grabowski and Herman Bell gave just four hits.

The defeat was costly to the Giants as it reduced them to a virtual tie with the Chicago Cubs for the National league leadership. They hold first place by a margin of only 12 points.

The Pickup Bears won along Lawrence's team a football game from John Bartman's team down at Jones park the other evening, the score being 16 and 15. ## This Medley Isn't Mixed Up

Wherever there is a medley relay to be run, you'll find these four Marquette University greyhounds on hand, ready and eager to set up new records. They raced to victory in the medley event in five major relays this season, starting with the indoor carnival at Illinois in March and continuing through the Texas, Southern Methodist, Kansas and Drake games. Members of the quartet are, lower left to right, Morgan and Sweeney; top, J. Walter and P. Waller.

Valley League Gossip

THE return of Lefty Ritten from North Carolina boosted the Appleton baseball stock considerably. The southpaw has been doing some collegiate stuff down in Dixie and he looks all ready for a good year on the slab.

"Butch" Thein, the Kim-Little Chute veteran, is filling in the sun garden for Marty Lamers' outfit until brother Boots is able to don the monkey togs again. Their peeled off three bingles, one a double, against Appleton.

Harry McAndrews, who once lugged a cowhide for the Badger varsity eleven, is performing with Kaukauna. Mas has been out of baseball for five years but Manager Les Smith is confident that his come back will be O. K.

Decker, another Badger product, is shortstopper for Wisconsin Rapids this season. He has taken a big job on himself to fill the gap left vacant by Johnny Kuehn but got off to a good start in the Kaukauna opener.

Nee-Menasha fans are expecting a great year from Nixon, the Pails' veteran mound artist. Nixon thrives on work and the oftener he tows the rubber, the better his speed ball sizzles. He is a strike-out artist.

"Bud" Worley, who was about half of the Marinette team in 1929, has been added to Green Bay's batline. "Bud" is one of the best hitters in this neck of the woods. Although a catcher, the Bays are using him in the field.

Maybe before the season is over, the Valley league will have a father and son pair in action. Marty Lamers at Kim-Little Chute has a youngster who is developing fast and there is a chance that he will get a chance.

"Shorty" Wenzel, 1929 batting leader in the Valley league, got away fast in the race for swat hours by polling three hits in five trips to the plate against Wisconsin Rapids. The Kaw catcher sure does hit 'em hard.

"Dick" Rachals, who was on the bench most of last year, is again carrying the pitching load for Green Bay. The big right-hander gave his salary wing lots of attention during the winter and the arm seems to be right again.

A pair of half-pint infielders, the Verstegen brothers are earning their spurs with Kim-Little Chute. Both

H. S. TRACK SQUAD RUNS TOMORROW

Shields Expects Dash, Middle Distance Men and Jumpers to Win

Appleton high school, Lawrence college freshmen and Oshkosh high school track teams will meet in a double track meet at Whiting athletic field Friday afternoon. Originally the Sawdust city team and Appleton were scheduled to run, but Vike authorities asked permission to let their frosh compete too, just to give the boys some competition. Coach Eddie Kotla is running the track squad.

The competition between Appleton and Oshkosh high is expected to give Coach Joseph Shields a line on his boys and the Oshkosh squad that will enable him to dope out a possible place in the annual valley track and field meet to be held at Marinette, May 31.

Last week the Orange squad went up to Wausau to compete in a quadrangular meet and tied with Antigo for first place. Strength in the dashes, middle distances and jumps enabled the Orange to pick up 43 points. Shields again will place his hopes in the same combinations with the other members of the team picking up enough third places to help a bit.

N. B. A. MAY BAN PRIMO CARNERA FROM U. S. RINGS

Italian Giant and Four Managers Facing Indefinite Suspension

CHICAGO (AP)—Primo Carnera, the giant Italian heavyweight, who has traveled over the United States scoring 16 knockouts or technical knockouts in as many bouts, today faced indefinite suspension by the National Boxing association.

Major General John V. Clinkin, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic commission, and chairman of a committee appointed by Stanley M. Isaacs, of Cincinnati, president of the N. B. A., to investigate the 16 knockouts, last night recommended that Carnera, and his quartet of managers, be indefinitely suspended by the association. Concurring in Liginger, of Milwaukee, secretary of the Wisconsin Boxing commission, and Thomas Donohue, of Hartford, Conn., former president of the N. B. A., the other members of the investigating committee.

In his report to President Isaacs, Clinkin stated the members of the committee believed a definite "build-up" policy to establish Carnera as one of the outstanding heavyweights of the world, had been followed. He added, however, that no direct evidence of a "criminal" conspiracy had been unearthed.

Leon See, Billy Duffy, Frank Churchill and Walter Friedman, designated as managers, were included in the recommendation for suspension.

SCORES

Telephone Co. 19, Coated 12.
Machine Co. 6, Tuttle Press 4.

Two more games are booked in the American softball league this evening with the Chair company meeting Pettibone-Peabody company, and the Wisconsin Michigan Power company team battling Fox River Paper company. The former game will be played at Roosevelt school, and the latter at Wilson school.

Tuesday evening's games in the loop were stunning upsets and one of them saw the Tuttle Press company beaten in league competition for the first time in two years. The winners were the Machine company, and the score was 6 and 4. Remond was bat star for the Machines with three hits in three times at bat. Furminger copped the fielding honors.

The other upset was almost as sensational as the defeat of the Tuttle Press. The Wisconsin Telephone company downed the strong Coated Paper company team in a real swat fight, 29 and 12. Except for the fifth inning when the count was 7 all, the Telephone team led throughout the game.

Indianapolis—Chuck Wiggins, Indianapolis, outpointed Joe Seckura, New York, (10) Rosy Kid Baker, Anderson, Ind., and Jack Rosen, Chicago, drew, (8).

Rookie May Steal Sewell's Job At Short For Indians

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS

Copyright 1930
CHICAGO—When Joe Sewell the little iron man of the Cleveland Indians was forced out of the lineup, by illness after playing 1,102 consecutive championship games, he not only lost the opportunity to break Everett Scott's endurance record but perhaps his job as the Ohioan's regular third baseman.

Johnny Burnett the tall, curly haired boy from Barto, Fla., who replaced Sewell during his indisposition, is leading American league batters with a percentage over .450 and fielding with the polish of a tried veteran. Obviously Manager Roger Peckinpaugh cannot bench a player traveling at Burnett's speed and for the time, at least, the elder Sewell—An Indian regular, since September, 1920—must sit on the bench.

Burnett is one of those lucky finds that comes to a major league team once in a generation. The boy was recommended to Cleveland, in 1926, when E. S. Barnard was president of the club, by Dr. Miller a former Southern association pitcher, residing in Barto. The boy then was a student at the university of Florida and during the summer vacation visited Cleveland and spent some weeks working out with the club.

Although only nineteen he made such an impression on the Cleveland leaders that Barnard told him the team would like his services when he completed his college work. And Burnett passed Cleveland his word. The following spring the New York Giants played an exhibition game against Florida and Burnett's hitting broke up the game. Immediately John McGraw was seized with a desire to own Burnett and Giant scouts pursued the youngster, feverishly. But to their offers, Burnett replied: "I could not sign with you for any money, I belong to Cleveland." Although in fact he had signed no contract.

The Green Bay Green Sox, once more under the management of the Clusman family are booked to invade Brandt park and offer themselves as the second sacrifice to the locals. The Bays will be playing their first game when Sunday comes around, the opener at Greer. Bay last week having been washed out by rain.

The confidence of the Appleton team is due in part to the fine field-

Officer... "Looks like your razor skidded today."
Motorist... "It's nothing to joke about. The way my blades run, I'm thinking of growing whiskers."
Officer... "You'd better change to the Gem, mister, and watch your shaving troubles speed away."

When you get a bad shave, it's the blade's fault. When you get two bad shaves, it's your fault for giving a bad blade a second chance.

Change to the Gem. There's not a bad blade in a thousand—but there are scores of great shaves in every package. And remember the economy of genuine Gem Blades:—you get more shaves per blade.

RECORD CROWD IS LOOKED FOR AS DERBY DAY NEARS

Six Special Trains from Chicago Expected at Louisville Saturday

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville today was making last minute preparations to handle a crowd of derby visitors Saturday which is expected to number between 50,000 and 75,000 persons. Although all hotel rooms have been engaged for weeks in advance, approximately 2,000 rooms in private homes and boarding houses were still available today, but fast filling.

Six special trains will arrive from Chicago Saturday morning, two chartered by the Chicago Athletic association, and others by the Mid-West club, the Lakeshore Athletic club, the South Shore Athletic club, and the Medunah Temple Shriners. Two special trains will come from New York, one from Cincinnati and one from Philadelphia.

The steamer Cincinnati, carrying three hundred passengers from the Queen City, will dock at Louisville Saturday morning. Bowman field officials are arranging to accommodate 100 planes. In addition to the special trains, railroads running into Louisville will add extra cars to their regularly scheduled trains.

The usual thousands of automobiles will bear their occupants to Louisville, also to swell the colorful crowd intent upon acclaiming the winner of the 1936 edition of the Kentucky derby. The usual traffic problem will be even more intricate this year, because of the blocking of one of the main thoroughfares leading from downtown Louisville to Churchill Downs by construction of an underpass.

CANCEL RESERVATIONS

One dismal note was sounded today when it was learned that two hotels at French Lick and West Baden, famed Indiana watering places two hours from Louisville, had received several cancellations of derby reservations, leading to speculation as to whether the derby crowd this year would be a record of one after all. As in the case of all present economic ills, failure of the Springs hotels to release their accommodations was laid to the stock market decline of last fall.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the former president, will be unable to attend the derby as she had planned, it was learned today, and J. J. Shouse, chairman of the national executive committee of the Democratic party, who with Mrs. Shouse was to have been in Washington because of an ear infection complicated by sinus trouble.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULT

Wolverines 4, Bears 3.

The Fourth ward Bears took another trimming Wednesday evening as result of their willingness to play over a game with the Wolverines which the latter had protested as result of a man leaving and then re-entering a few days ago. The score was 4 and 3 but the game went ten complete innings before it was finally settled. The Bears won the protested game.

Both teams scored in the first inning, one run each, and the Wolverines then took a two run lead by counting twice in the second frame. The Bears tied up the count in the fifth inning and then the game waxed furious until the tenth when Peotter walked, stole second and went to third on an overthrow, scampering home when Sanders beat out a hit to right short.

The game was one of the most interesting and closely contested the O. B. teams have played this season. The Bears had several chances to tally but Priebe, Wolverine hurler, then would tighten up and retire the side. In the seventh inning Mortel and Ryan got on base but failed to get anywhere when Nohr and Greishaber struck out and Verbrick lofted to Priebe.

have been active in their attempts to prevent shipments of liquor to the derby city. A series of raids in Tennessee last week-end and confiscation of 10,000 gallons at Hammond, Ind., last night, agents said today, would considerably diminish the supply. Local dry officers yesterday marvelled at the quality of 400 quarts of fine Canadian liquors, believed shipped from Buffalo, confiscated in a raid here Tuesday night.

GUY SUNDT WILL STAY WITH U. W.

Frosh Coach and Director of H. S. Tourneys Refuses Other Offers

Madison—Guy Sundt, the "man behind" the annual state high school basketball tournament and the state interscholastic track meet, has decided to stick with his alma mater, the University of Wisconsin, in the face of four flattering offers of first class coaching positions at other institutions.

Sundt, who coaches the Badger freshman football and track teams and also finds time to tutor the varsity kickers in the fall, was first sought as backfield coach by Tom Lieb, former Wisconsin line coach who a few weeks ago, was called to the position of head football coach by Loyola university of Los Angeles.

Two other schools also made Sundt offers of desirable coaching positions then came a tender from North Carolina State college, which wished to engage the Badger frosh tutor, as head coach of football and basketball to succeed Gus Tebell, former Wisconsin end, who had made a notable record in the same position.

Every member of the University of Wisconsin athletic council, as well as Director George Little and Head Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite, felt that it would be a serious loss to Wisconsin football to let Sundt go. As a result of this conviction the council unanimously voted to raise his salary to a figure which is regarded as the limit here. When this was done, Sundt definitely decided to remain at Wisconsin next year.

U. W. NINE DRAWS RECORD CROWDS

Four Games Left Before Conclusion of Big Ten Baseball Schedule

Madison — Baseball interest at the University of Wisconsin is seething as a result of the splendid showings of the Badger varsity baseball team in winning six straight conference games, which gives them undisputed possession of first place in the Big Ten race, with but four games left to play.

Wisconsin's last two thrilling victories, over Northwestern, by a score of 3 to 2 Saturday, and over Illinois, 3 to 0, Monday, were as beautiful exhibitions of the national pastime as one often sees in college baseball. So keen is the interest here in the Badgers' great pennant drive that it has been necessary to erect additional bleachers at Camp Randall to accommodate the crowds. The latest additions bring the seating capacity to 4,000 and it is expected that every seat will be occupied when the Badgers play Michigan in the last home game here, May 24.

The Badgers seem to improve with every game. Although not an especially hard hitting outfit, they have the faculty of getting hits when hits mean runs, and, defensively, the team leaves little to be desired. Time and again, despite the fact that Mau-

BADGERS TO RACE HUSKIE, JUNE 16

Crews Will Then Entrain for 'Keepsie: to Be Quartered Together

Madison—(AP)—Following negotiations between Coaches Mike Murphy of Wisconsin and Al Thompson of Washington, the date for the rematch between the Badger and Husky varsity, junior varsity and freshmen crews has been definitely set for Monday, June 16, with the understanding that in the event of unfavorable weather conditions, the races may be put over to the following day.

The University of Washington crews have always beaten the Badgers in their previous meetings and are reported to be unusually strong this year. The Badger crews, although their progress has not been entirely satisfactory to Coach Murphy, are generally expected to prove the best which have sported the cardinal in a number of years. Regardless of their outcome, these races will afford the Badgers valuable racing experience. Both naves will entrain for Poughkeepsie immediately after the races here.

Sidereal sportsmanship has marked the athletic relations of Wisconsin and Washington in past years, when the crews have been quartered together on the Hudson and have fraternized most cordially.

ry Barber was pitching air tight ball, Illinois got men on bases Monday, with none out or only one down, only to be cut off by smart snappy fielding, which included three double plays.

The Badgers' next engagement will be with Chicago here, Saturday, following which they will tackle Minnesota at Minneapolis, May 29. The concluding games will be with Michigan, at Madison, May 24, and at Ann Arbor, May 31.

HORNSBY RECEIVES PLAYER AWARD, MAY 31

Chicago—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, second baseman with the Chicago Cubs, will become $1,000 richer on May 31.

The date was set as it is the day on which Hornsby will be presented with $1,000, a gift in recognition of his season as the National League's most valuable player in 1935. The present, valued at $1,000, was presented to him by John H. Hamilton, president of the league.

This will be the last award of its kind the club owners have made. It is to be presented to the player who was the only player to win it twice in the six years of its existence.

TRAFFIC GROUP TO INTERVENE IN CASE OVER PAPER RATES

Permission for Intervention Granted Green Bay Association

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau) Washington—The Interstate Commerce commission has granted permission to the Green Bay Traffic association to intervene in the case of the Wisconsin Paper and Pulp Manufacturers' Traffic association against the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

This two year old case involves rates on paper and paper products from Wisconsin, principally Fox river points, upper Michigan and Waukegan, Ill., to points in Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. The Wisconsin Paper and Pulp association filed a complaint with the commission on April 15, 1928, charging that rates from Wisconsin points to the above destinations were unreasonable, unjust and discriminatory in favor of shipments in California, Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia, with whom the Wisconsin shippers compete.

The Wisconsin Paper association is a voluntary association composed of a great number of Wisconsin manufacturers and shippers. In its complaint it represented shippers in Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Green Bay, Shawano, Peshtigo, Nekeosa, Port Edwards, Stevens Point, Mosinee, Rothschild, and Merrill, in the Fox river group alone.

In its original complaint, it alleged that about 630,000 tons, exclusive of wood pulp, of paper products were shipped by members of the association last year. The products included newsprint paper, wall paper, wood pulpboard, printing paper, wrapping paper, paper bags, toilet paper and paper towelling.

Hearings of the case have been postponed several times, the last postponement being from January 28, 1930. It is now scheduled for June 2, 1930 at Kansas City, Mo., when it will be consolidated with several other paper-rate cases, and heard at the same time that the case of the Ecanaba Paper company versus the Abilene and Southern Railroad is heard.

As an intervener, the Green Bay Traffic association, representing the Fort Howard Paper company, the Hoberg Paper & Fibre company, and the Northern Paper Mills all of Green Bay, will be entitled to be present at the taking of testimony, to produce and cross examine witnesses, and to be heard in person at the oral argument.

The Green Bay petition seeking to intervene was submitted through W. T. Kerwin, manager of the association.

SUNSET PLAYERS OFFER EXCELLENT PRODUCTION

Very few dramatic productions, this side of Milwaukee or Chicago, can approximate the finish and interpretation of Sunset Players presentation, according to Warren Beck, Lawrence college professor of English, announcing the play, "Miss Lulu Bett" to be presented Friday night at the chapel.

Recalling the excellence of the two plays given this year, "Outward Bound," and "The Queen's Husband," Mr. Beck assured students that the scenes and action of "Miss Lulu Bett" will be fully as well done. Tickets may be purchased from members of the club and are to be reserved at Bell's Drug store.

To many who have visited Italian sections in cities in this country, it won't be immediately clear why Mussolini has offered reward to encourage a campaign for "more Italian babies."

SET OUT BUOYS ON FOX RIVER, LAKES

A crew of government employees under the direction of Capt. Warren Richards of the tug Menasha, is placing buoys in the lower and upper Fox river as far as Lake Poygan, including the channel of Lake Winnebago, according to A. F. Everett, government engineer. Acetylene flash buoys, spar and nun buoys are being set for the season, he stated. The work will be completed the latter part of this week.

NAVY PACT CROWNS PLAN U. S. ASKED FOR BACK IN 1921

Aircraft Carrier Tonnage Is Greater, However, Than Original Proposal

BY KIRKE SIMPSON

Washington —(AP)—The London three-power naval limitations pact brings within sight of realization American proposals made nearly nine years ago.

Limitation of future naval construction within stabilized ratios. Radical reduction of then existing or projected battle tonnage.

They were stated to the original naval limitations conference in Washington on Nov. 12, 1921, by the American spokesman, Charles Evans Hughes.

And now, in London, specific figures given at Washington as to warship tonnage totals virtually have been reached.

There are exceptions. Totals in aircraft carrier tonnage are far above the original American proposal of 1921. In two other categories, however, battleships and submarines—important reductions below the Hughes proposals have been achieved.

The key to Mr. Hughes' proposals was the "5-5-3" ratio. That represented the theory of naval activities upon which the United States then offered a scrap more than $300,000,000 worth of warships under construction, completion of which would have made the American navy the most powerful in the world.

What Washington demanded as the price of abandonment of the attainment of that position in sea power was treaty-fixed naval equality with Great Britain and a ratio as of 5 to 3 between the American and Japanese fleets.

The London pact contemplates, in the battleship category, abandonment of tonnage as the unit of measurement for ratio purposes in favor of numbers of ships.

It contemplates immediate arrival at a "5-5-3" battleship status by scrapping five British, three American, and one Japanese existing vessels. The fleets thus would be left at 15-15-3 ships for a further period of six years.

The Washington negotiators found it impossible to bring France and Italy into the picture on any types of war vessels but battleships and aircraft carriers.

French plans for submarine and cruiser fleet and Italy's demand for full navy parity with France prevented.

The same factors balked the London 1920 effort on a five-power basis covering all types of fighting ships.

Under the London pact, the Japanese ratio varies with each category. Based on numbers, it is "5-3" in battleships.

In 8-inch gun cruisers, the Japanese ratio is "100-60.3." In 6-inch gun cruisers, it is "10-7." In destroyers, "100-10.3" in submarines, at parity.

For her whole fleet, including battleships, Japan attains a ratio of "100-63.6" instead of "5-3" as Hughes planned.

The third of the speaker is to the Henry M. Dawes, brother of former vice-president Charles C. Dawes and president of the Pure Oil company. He is a former comptroller of the currency and will address the meeting on "Centralization in Banking."

ECONOMISTS SEE UNITED STATES OF EUROPE COMING

Will Probably Never Have Formal Constitution, but
Will Be a Power

Paris —(AP)—A "United States of Europe" is already an economic fact. That's what you hear in Paris both among French and European visitors close to currents shaping Europe's future.

International cartels in steel and potash are pointed to as indicating that the European confederation has been actually born.

The infant is not husky, true, but leaders in finance and industry insist that the new organism possesses considerable nervous energy and destined to be constantly fed on the necessities of European economic reconstruction.

Never, perhaps, will a "United States of Europe" have a formal constitution, but it is seen eventually a mighty force in world economics.

Information available at Paris indicates that apprehension concerning the future of Europe are not exclusively economic. They are clearly political also.

Many contend that statesmen should concentrate less on schemes for prevention of war and more on economic agreements. They argue that an economic catalyst in any one great country will immediately have dangerous repercussions in other nations.

Although little or nothing appears in the press it is known that meetings between representative Frenchmen and representative Germans are taking place more often in a quiet effort to develop what's called the "rapprochement" between France and Germany.

The idea behind this movement is the belief that in the long run the interests of France and Germany in the domain of economics and broad social questions are very largely identical.

Murder at High Tide

By CHARLES G. BOOTH

SYNOPSIS: The San Lucas Island estate of Dan Parados, unscrupulous, hated tyrant of his own secluded domain, is pervaded by a spirit of ominous fear. Allen Hunt, who comes to check on Parados' art collection, is perplexed by outbursts of strange behavior at every turn. Parados sends Hunt to his room and retires to his library, announcing he won't attend dinner that night. Hunt by chance discovers a comely girl apparently trying to steal a portrait from Parados' collection. He interrupts her and is struck by her beauty. A queer man, who introduces himself as Anatole Flique, appears and takes charge of the situation. The girl reveals herself as Caroline Brent, last of the family whose art collection Parados once bought. Flique persuades Caroline, much against her will, to stay for dinner, assuring her that Parados won't be there.

Chapter 4
THE GENIUS OF FLIQUE
MRS. PARADOS, whom we met in the reception hall, had been a fine-looking woman in her day, but she was 40 now. Experience and artifice had enameled her face with that hardness which a man carries better than a woman.

She gave me a smile, but her eyebrows ascended and Caroline turned imploringly to Flique.

"This is my charming friend, Mlle. Brent," he beamed. "May I beg a room for her and a place at your table?"

"Yes, indeed," the woman answered. "I must have been out when you arrived."

"Did I not meet her myself?" Flique interposed neatly. "Mademoiselle Brent is of the illustrious Brents, of whom monsieur your husband has spoken. Monsieur called in those famous ones, Morrison and Hunt, and to assist them, who is more competent than mademoiselle, the last of her line?"

I wondered what Parados would say when he came out of his library. I didn't know my husband had sent for you, Mlle. Brent."

"Ah, that husband of yours," Flique chuckled. "He is the original, yes, Monsieur met mademoiselle in San Francisco."

Caroline's embarrassment was pitiable. It must have touched Mrs. Parados.

"We are glad to have you with us, anyhow," she said. "You are very kind, Mrs. Parados," she said. "I hadn't expected to stay—but M. Flique insisted—"

"M. Flique has a way with him," Mrs. Parados remarked wryly. "A light footfall drew our eyes up the handsome staircase. Celia was descending slowly, lovely in a scanty dinner gown. Mrs. Parados' hands were clenched. The hatred in her eyes as she looked up at Celia shocked me. Celia was smiling."

"Who is this golden one?" the soprano voice of Anatole Flique suddenly demanded. "Come, ma chérie, and he took Celia's hand and led her to Caroline. "I present, my little friend, Mlle. Brent. This golden one is our Celia Ferris, mademoiselle. You will be friends, yes? It cannot be otherwise."

We were all laughing now, even Mrs. Parados, and I began to appreciate the peculiar genius of Anatole Flique.

"M. Flique is a dear and he says nothing so nicely that we love to listen," Celia said lightly.

Caroline laughed. "You're more than kind, you and Mrs. Parados. I know I shall love San Lucas."

"It's enchanting," Celia drawled. "My little friend has the misfortune to be without the dinner gown," Flique interposed irrelevantly. "There is a little gorgonzola the color of mademoiselle's eyes in your wardrobe—"

"Oh, surely," Celia interrupted. "Come along, Mlle. Brent. We've just five minutes."

Celia linked her arm in Caroline's and they flew up the handsome stair. Flique beamed.

"You're too much of a diplomat for this house, M. Flique," Mrs. Parados said in a brittle voice. "You should have come ten years ago."

"It delectates me that you are right, madame," Flique replied gravely. "Today is madame's birthday," he said gently, "and the twentieth—um—anniversary of her wedding, yes? May I felicitate madame?" Flique inquired.

She stared at Flique, and then, with a sob, fled up the stair.

"Mlle. Flique curieuse," Flique muttered. "Come, my friend, M. le Professeur is in the sun-room."

"M. le Professeur," whom we found reading a newspaper, was a slender, elderly man with brown eyes and thick-lensed glasses, a neat gray beard and a slightly nervous manner. Flique introduced him as Herbert Johns, the custodian of the fort.

"Mr. Parados spoke of your coming," Professor Johns said agreeably, "but I expected an older man."

"It would be Morrison, the senior partner, of whom he spoke," I pointed out, tired of repeating the explanation. "Morrison is ill."

Flique excused himself with the remark that he had "a composition to prepare" and took himself off to the other end of the sun-room.

"It was intensely interesting in that old fort of yours," I laughed, dropping into a chair.

"Mine?" he murmured, lifting his eyebrows. "I wish it were."

An underlying bitterness penetrated the delicate surface wistfulness of his expression.

"Of course it is Mr. Parados' property," I hastened to say, "but you have lived in it and taken care of it long enough to justify you in speaking of it as your own."

"So it would seem after 28 years," he agreed, dreaming nervously in his chair. "But life itself is only a tenancy. Nothing is permanent—except death, and our silly dreams don't count then. But her I am talking nonsense," and his negative personality again was steeped in his smile. "You must come over as often as you please. We'll have some good talks. If you find me queer, you won't mind, eh?"

I was touched by a beaten look in Johns' magnified eyes.

"People out of the common have a fascination for me," I laughed. "You are busy?"

"He nodded. "I'm working on a text book on marine biology. Are you interested in that sort of thing?"

"I'm afraid you'll find me a dull pupil," I grinned.

Flique was sealing an envelope. He proceeded to address it.

Professor Johns drummed on the arm of his chair. "M. Flique is attached to the Paris Surete. I understand that he is their cleverest investigator."

This significant bit of information left me with a cold feeling. A little gong sounded and I followed Professor Johns into the dining room, room.

463 CORPORATIONS BOOST DIVIDENDS IN LAST 5 MONTHS

Fewer Concerns Show Decrease Despite Period of Depression

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York—(CPA)—
In the five months since the end of last November, the period covering the most acute business depression in this country since 1922, no less than 463 American corporations have increased their dividends or made initial payments to shareholders, either in cash or stock, while 182 companies have reduced their dividends or passed them.

Beginning with December a study of the situation shows that in that month there were 209 dividend declarations favorable to shareholders and 51 unfavorable. This represented payments due on Jan. 1, which, with July 1, is one of the periods of heaviest disbursement during the year. In the next month 82 dividends were increased and 49 decreased. The record in February was 66 dividends higher and 18 lower. At this point dividend policies began to reveal quite clearly the effect of earnings in the business depression, for in March there were 71 favorable dividend declarations and 57 that were adjustments to smaller revenues. In April, for the first time, decreases exceeded increases, the figures being 39 and 55 respectively.

An analysis of the trend of dividend policies in the five months disclosed the striking seasons in the corporation life of the country and also its weak spots. Among the prominent corporations that have increased their dividends or declared initial payments since last November are Allis-Chalmers Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, the Frank G. Shattuck company, United Gas Improvement company, Virginia Railway, American Power & Light, Hershey Chocolate corporation, National Biscuit, Norfolk & Western Railway, General Electric, Boston & Maine Railroad, Paramount-Famous-Lasky, Remington Rand, Coca Cola, International Corporation, Niagara Shares Corporation, Niles Bement Pond company, Loose Wiles Biscuit, The Big Four, Color Ado Fuel, Inland Steel, and Westinghouse Electric. Just prior to the period under review, Consolidated Gas of New York, National Dairy Products, and International Match company raised their dividends.

The less favorable dividend policies are those affecting principally the motor, radio, aviation, motor accessory, textile, cooper mining, retail distributing organizations, finance and trading companies.

In this list dividends that have been reduced or passed are those of such outstanding corporations as Studebaker, Calumet & Arizona Mining, Jones & Laughlin steel, Marmore Motor Car, Chile Copper, Empire Steel, Simmons Company, Stewart Warner, Willys Overland, Curtiss Aeroplane & Motor, General Baking, Glen Alden Coal, Guigys Grunow, Hupp Motor Car, National Bellas Hess, and Wright Aeronautics.

ROAD DROPS DIVIDENDS

One railroad, the Norfolk & Southern omitted its semi-annual dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on the common stock, in contrast to the several others that have increased their rates during the period of acute drop in traffic. One public utility company reduced its preferred stock dividend and several others, which were also identified mainly with the traction side of the industry cut their common stock dividends or passed them entirely.

It is quite significant that with all of the depreciation that occurred in the market value of the portfolios of the scores of so-called "investment trusts" that were set up in 1929, there has been so little disturbance in the dividends initially paid on the common stocks of these concerns. Only a few were compelled to adjust their payments to shareholders to a change in their affairs. Of these the Shenandoah Corporation stands out conspicuously as one with a large amount of outstanding capital and a widely distributed shareholders' list.

Altogether the record of dividends so far paid is astonishingly favorable. It is an indication of the reserves that most corporations were able to establish during the prosperous years of 1928 and 1929 and into which most of them now feel justified in dipping to continue dividends, although these may not be currently earned.

RECEIVES DAMAGES FOR INJURIES IN SEPARATOR

Of the amount awarded Staudenmayer, $385.15 is for disability incurred and $873.35 for hospital bills.

U.S. Strikes Lindy Medal To Honor Atlantic Flight

Washington—(P)—To the many tributes in the collection of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, a special gold medal will be awarded in the name of congress.

The award will be faced with a profile view of the famous aviator dressed in flying helmet, the design being conceived by Mrs. Laura Gardin Fraser and selected by Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

On the reverse will be pictured a lone eagle, its wings stretched in west-east flight and the rays of the sun and a group of stars symbolizing the day and night trans-Atlantic flight.

The medal will be struck in gold in the United States mint in Philadelphia and bronze copies distributed there to the public on payment of $1 and postage cost.

It is the third distinction to be conferred by congress because of the feats of the flier, the distinguished flying cross and title of colonel in the air corps reserves be-

DUCKING RESULTS IN GIFT OF STONE PIER

Honolulu—(P)—Because Sir Joseph Carruthers of Sydney, Australia's representative at the Captain Cook celebration in 1938, got his feet wet when he landed near the monument to the explorer, a stone jetty is to be built there by Australia.

Sir Joseph stepped from an Hawaiian canoe to a smooth stone and slipped. He then and there declared there should be stone steps there.

A letter from him to the Cook commission has brought tidings that Australia has approved the expense.

ing given on his triumphant return from Europe.

Mrs. Fraser, the designer, is wife of James E. Fraser, noted sculptor. Her works include designs of the Grant memorial gold dollar and three 50-cent coins, memorials of the Alabama centennial, Fort Vancouver, and the Oregon trail.

To determine the best fiber for newspapers, the bureau of standards is studying samples of papers 30 or more years old. The chief consideration is color and strength in relation to preservation.

Talks To Parents

AVOIDING STRAIN
BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

The intelligent young mother of today has heard so much and read so much about the importance of habit training that she frequently forgets that her baby is something more than a physical organism and a lot of conditioned reflexes. So intent is she on teaching him habits of independence and cleanliness that she has not time to realize that these things, important as they are, may, if overdone, result in nervous strain and emotional maladjustment.

A child can be taught nothing so valuable that it will compensate for excessive nervous or emotional tension involved in learning it. Certainly it is fine for the toddler to have his own hooks in the bathroom and to hang up his wash cloth and towel when he is through with them.

It is good for him to learn to undress himself and to hang his clothes neatly upon his clothes tree, and to put his toys away in his play box when he is through playing with them.

Yet these things are important to the child only in so much as they give him a certain kind of freedom, a sense of power, and an eagerness for further accomplishment.

No one of them is worth while apart from its effect upon his attitude toward himself and the world about him. As soon as his learning is accompanied by emotional scenes of nervous strain the value of what he learns is wholly overshadowed by the bad influence of wrong attitudes which are being set up.

The store that gives in to such customers proves itself more interested in getting the order that they are in giving great value. At Dame's the customer's welfare through his purchase is always safeguarded. Here, the sale is never completed until you are satisfied in every detail. Good business ethics place an obligation upon us to keep the customer from being misled into buying poor value.
